Memorial Services For Great Educator

Local Colored Citizens in Large Numbers Attend Exercises Sunday Afternoon at Zion Baptist Church.

WASHINGTON IS EULOGIZED

Many Interesting Facts of His Life Told by Those Who Knew Him. Resolutions Adopted.

Standing room was at a premium Sunday afternoon in Zion Baptist church where memorial services for the late Booker T. Washington were held. Men and women who knew him told many interesting facts about his life and character and of his devotion to the race of which he was proud, whose needs he knew so well and for which he so zealously and untiringly labored.

The exercises began with a hymn by the choir. An invocation followed. Then there was another selection by the choir, after which the Rev. Dr. G. G. Logan, pastor of the Grove M. E. church, who had known him well for many years, gave a most interesting address on "Dr. Washington's Early Life as a Student," in which he emphasized, among other things, the fact that the same determination to secure an education which Washington showed in his early life was a dominant characteristic of the man throughout his subsequent career.

G. Wade Obee, in a well-chosen address on "Dr. Washington as a Business Man," spoke of his administrative ability, necessarily of a high order to build up and administer such an institution as Tuskegee, and dwelt upon the work he had done in organizing The Negro Business Men's League. Mrs. J. H. Hutten gave an appreciated vocal solo.

Mrs. J. H. Wallace, formerly of Kansas City, whose guest the educator had been, spoke most interestingly on the topic of "Dr. Washington as a Guest in the Home," in which she told of his simplicity and unaffectedness.

Mrs. J. Alice Stewart, who had met him very frequently during her educational work in the South, spoke on "Dr. Washington as a Race Man." In the course of her address she was frequently applauded. She told how, after residing in the South and seeing conditions as they were, and having met Dr. Washington, she became convinced of the fact that he was absolutely sincere in his devotion to his race, even though his silence on many wrongs to his people which he keenly felt brought criticism upon him from those who did not understand conditions. She told of his influence in quieting conditions during the Atlanta riots, when he arose from a sick bed and went to Atlanta and delivered an eloquent speech to a large gathering of white people, Mrs.

Thoughts From Our Own Authors

There are no beaten paths to Glory's height,
There are no rules to compass greatness known;
Each for himself must cleave a path alone,
And press his own way forward in the fight.
Smooth is the way to ease and calm delight,
And soft the road Sloth chooseth for her own;
But he who craves the flower of life full-blown,
Must struggle up in all his armor dight.

THE PROPOSED NEW ZION BAPTIST CHURCH

Some Important Facts of Reconstruction.

Editor The Monitor:

Please accept my thanks for the fight you and The Monitor have made against the "Birth of a Nation." The more I examine this insidious thing my conviction grows that it is doing untold harm to the colored people of this nation. It is teaching the young white people a lie and hatred against the one group in America today which is so greatly needed to maintain our national existence should we be drawn into the world war.

I do not know why this photo-play was produced, or why it is spending such enormous sums of money for newspaper and billboard advertisement all over the country; but it has been suggested to me, by a prominent lawyer of our city, that it was designed to lift the odium of the operations of the klu klux klan from the so-called leading families of the South who were prominent in its career of murder and other lawless and brutal deeds.

Yesterday I met a reporter on one of our daily papers who had seen this play, and to my amazement he said he believed it to be true. He was born in Kansas, holds an A. B. from the University of Kansas. If this man accepts this play as historically true, what must be the views held by other northern white persons who have seen it. The thought has come to me that we need to educate our white friends, insofar as time and opportunity permit, respecting the facts of reconstruction.

The klu klux klan, which is shown in this play as saviours of civilization, committed its first murders in Tennessee in the latter part of 1865. Some of the victims were white ministers and teachers from the North, and, of course, Negroes. At this time the Negro was without legal status as a freedman, except such as he had gained by the Emancipation Proclamation. The 13th amendment gave him his legal status as a freeman, the 14th amendment made him a citizen, and the 15th amendment conferred upon him the ballot. That was in 1869. Mark well the time. In 1868, nearly one full year before the Negro became a voter, an election was held in South Carolina and other southern states. The Republican party carried South Carolina by a majority of 18,000, without a single Negro vote. The situation in the other southern states was relatively the same as to party majority. Up to this time many thousands of white and colored persons had been murdered by the klans. And when the Republican officers (white) began the passage of laws to overthrow the klu klux klan, it started on a campaign of crime unrivalled in the history of the world, and kept it up until their toll in murder had risen to one hundred thousand persons. They burned hundreds of school houses and under cover of darkness they invaded the homes of helpless white and colored persons and gave them brutal beatings with rawhides. Through this means hundreds of

Colored Student On University Team

Wins Place By Merit in Competition With Thirty-eight Brilliant Debaters.

SECURES SMALL SCHOLARSHIP

William Haines of Nashville, Tenn., Has Gained Oratorical Laurels Before.

Ch. A. O., Dec. 3.—Once again the University of Chicago places itself on record as being willing to recognize merit regardless of race, color or creed. Six men were awarded positions on the Varsity Debating Team Monday night, Nov. 23. Of these six William Haines, a race lad from Nashville, was unanimously adjudged the most brilliant and capable speaker, and placed upon the debating team which is to meet the University of Michigan January 21st, 1916.

Chosen Out of Many.

The speakers discussed the question: "Resolved, That Congress should adopt the literary tests for all European immigration." Twelve men contested as teams. Two debates were held, two teams taking part in each. The twelve were all that were left from a field of thirty-eight at the preliminaries held two weeks ago. Individual ability counted in the prelims, and in the finals, stress was placed upon capacity for team work. Young Haines excelled in both divisions and fairly won the honors which accompany a position upon the Maroon declaiming team.

Wins Eighty Dollars.

In addition to being the only under graduate to make the team, Haines has soothing knowledge that by so doing, he automatically becomes entitled to a scholarship of eighty dollars. This amount he will utilize in continuing his work in the university.

The young orator is a son of the Rev. Wm. Haines, of Nashville, Tenn. His collegiate work was pursued at Atlanta Baptist College, now known as Moorehouse. This is not the first time the youth has won fame upon the rostrum, and is well known throughout the Southern collegiate world for his silvery tongued oratory.

U. of C. Draws No Line.

By awarding the young orator the place for which his merit warrants, the University of Chicago continues the policy she has always shown, fair play to all students.

OWN NEARLY THIRD MILLION.

The Negro Odd Fellows of Georgia own more than $300,000 in property. In addition to paying out $100,000 in benefits to widows and orphans, the order is reported to have loaned its members in that state more than $86,000 to buy farms, build homes, and go into business. This is a progressive step worthy of emulation.

General Race News

RACE YOUTH GIVEN IMPORTANT POST.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 3.—Success of a Detroit boy was made known recently in the appointment of Daniel F. Cole as chief engineer and technical adviser of the Ontario Aeroplane Company, Ltd., of Gravenhurst, an enterprise financed by a group of Toronto capitalists to make fliers for the British army.

Young Cole was born here and educated in the Trowbridge and Central high schools, and his "arrival" is considered by his mother, Mrs. Maggie Porter Cole of 273 East Euclid avenue, formerly known as a singer, to reflect credit on the enterprise and ability of the members of his race here. She is intensely proud of the achievement of her son.

"This is an answer to the question 'What are the young Negroes accomplishing?' that we hear asked," she declared. "My son has made good after a terrible uphill fight, and there are others who are doing the same thing as business men and lawyers."

FIGHT SEGREGATION.

Jacksonville, Ill., Dec. 3.—A case which probably will reach the supreme court and be a precedent for the future was tried in the circuit here recently. The case was that of two colored women against G. M. Luttrell, manager of a moving picture theater. Manager Luttrell has been segregating the colored and the whites in his theater and these women refused to occupy the seats designated by him and were refunded their money. They brought suit in a justice court, charging unjust discrimination. That court decided in favor of the theater manager and an appeal was taken to the circuit court. After being out two hours the jury returned a verdict in favor of sustaining the verdict of the justice court. It is said that a state organization of colored people is back of the suit, the main purpose of which is to fight against discrimination of colored citizens in public places. Some points involved in the case have never before been brought up to the courts for decision and John M. Butler, attorney for the colored women, is of the opinion that a favorable decision by the supreme court will result in colored people in other states taking up the same issue.

WOMAN ORATOR GIVEN HONOR.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Tuesday evening, November 24, in New York City, Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, the race's illustrious platform orator, delivered a notable address at the famous Fifth Avenue Marble Collegiate church, to an audience made up of the wealth and fashion of the nation's metropolis, appearing under the auspices of the Women's Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church of America. This is the first time a woman of our race has been invited to speak before this splendid organization and the first time the platform of this celebrated edifice has been ruled by a race advocate. Mrs. Terrell presented the issues of the day in a forceful, yet graceful and diplomatic way, and made many converts to the cause she came to espouse.

Mrs. Terrell made a pronounced hit at the expositions in San Francisco and in San Diego early in the fall, and is in demand now for more lectures than her pressing domestic duties will permit her to accept.

DIXON PHOTOPLAY BARRED FROM MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 3.—"The Birth of a Nation" will not be allowed to come to Memphis, the local moving picture board having barred it. John M. Dean, a member of the board, saw the play in San Francisco and decided then to use his influence against it should an attempt be made to show it in Memphis.

The board of censors gives two reasons for its action: First, that the picture stirs race prejudice; second, that it will have a bad moral effect on the community.

EVENTS AND PERSONS.

Mrs. Harry Williams of 2414 Binyon street, returned Monday of this week from an extended visit to the Panama exposition.

Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Bundrant report a financial as well as a social success on their return from Lincoln, where they recently gave a recital.

Standing room was at a premium at St. John's Thanksgiving night to witness the play by the DuBois Dramatic club. Miss Hazel Perry is destined to become a real artist in the dramatic world, as is Mr. Andrew Reed and Miss Beatrice Majors, who held the standard of the DuBois club and received rounds of applause and congratulations. Mrs. Jessie Moss carried the audience in her renditions from Dunbar, as did Mrs. C. B. Wilks and Miss Darlene Duval, who rendered well their beautiful solos. The DuBois Dramatic club will appear at Mt. Zion Baptist church December 17 in "The Veiled Lady." The past reputation of the club assures good audiences, as they are giving the small church plays with as much interest and strong acting as they do their three and four-act dramas.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bush entertained at Thanksgiving dinner, the Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Osborne.

Mr. Oscar Johnson and Miss Ethel Smith of Chicago were married at the A. M. E. parsonage Saturday at high noon by Rev. W. T. Osborne.

A party was given Wednesday evening by the Misses Myrtle and Pansy Newland in honor of their sister Annie's seventeenth birthday anniversary.

WOMAN'S CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of the Colored Omaha Woman's club will be held at the residence of the president, Mrs. L. Gray, 1211 Missouri avenue, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present. At 8 o'clock the same evening the "Don't Worry Club" will be organized properly into the state federation by the state organizer, Mrs. Ophelia Safford.

At the residence of Mrs. Brownlee, 2810 Ohio street, a musical-tea will be given under the auspices of the Women's club Tuesday evening, December 14, for the benefit of charity. Hours, 3 to 5 p. m., 8 to 11 p. m.

A silver offering.
Mrs. L. Gray, president; Mrs. B. Bostick, secretary.

TO DEBATE AGAINST YALE.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 3.—The Syracuse University debating team will meet in their annual debate against Yale on Dec. 6 in New York. L. B. Williams will be one of the members of the Syracuse team.

KILLED IN BATTLE.

All of the thirteen Americans in the French Foreign Legion were killed in one of the recent engagements in France. Among them was Bob Scanlon, a former colored prize fighter.

SOME IMPORTANT FACTS OF RECONSTRUCTION.

Teachers from the North were driven from communities. This wholesale assassination was kept up from 1865 to 1876, when the so-called reconstruction governments fell.

The Silas Lynch shown in this malignant picture is supposed to be Robert Elliott. Here he is shown as a weak half-trained Negro, when, in fact, Robert Elliott was a graduate of Oxford university, England. He did more than any other man, save Sumner and Douglas, to fix the civil and political status of the colored people.

Stoneman of this play was Thaddeus Stevens of Pennsylvania. Here he is shown as having a colored mistress. His butler told me that this was a malicious invention, as we may well believe, for at that time Thaddeus Stevens was 77 years of age. Much, too, is made of his reconstruction program. At that time President Johnson came forward with a program, not very different in its terms from the congressional plan, but Congress contended that it alone had the right to evolve a plan for reconstruction and re-admission of the Southern states to the Union. Stevens as the leader in the House of Representatives and Sumner as the senate leader properly held that under section 3 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the United States, Congress alone could fix the rules for the admission of the seceded states. Congress did fix those rules and the seceded states were re-admitted under them. The Negroes were given the ballot. And while they made mistakes, their gift of the public school system to the South by its wise exercise quite overshadows them. They made it possible for colored men and women to ride as passengers on trains and boats, to serve as jurors in courts, to testify as witnesses in our judicial tribunals and to hold public office. I grew up amid the scenes of reconstruction. I know many men and women who were in the thick of that fight, and I am weary of reading and hearing apologies for what was done by the benefactors of democracy and the nation, in that day.

As to the charge in this play that the ignorant Negro is predisposed toward rape on white women, the authors are respectfully referred to the records made by the Negro during the war. But the effrontery of the white men of the South in mentioning the relations between the sexes is appalling, when it is recalled that the majority of the leading white men of the South made it a business for two hundred and fifty years to rape their bound and fettered Negro women. And so far as I have been able to ascertain, ours was the only slavery in all the history of mankind in which such a monstrous crime was committed.

I have set down these facts in a general way that you may use them, if desirable, in this or any other form. And I wish that the colored youth and the white would examine these facts in the various works on this question. Much of what I have set down is found in the works or writings of Albion W. Tourgee; "The Rise and Fall of Slavery," by Henry W. Smith; the "Aftermath of Slavery," by Wm. A. Sinclair; "Facts of Reconstruction," by John R. Lynch, and the congressional reports of federal investigation into southern atrocities. They will find, as I think I have, that the North was right and the South was wrong, and that the situation is much the same today.

But a sinister influence is indeed abroad when this play can come into our community and teach the lies it does with the acquiescence of the authorities and the management of the playhouse.

Very truly yours,
H. J. PINKETT.

AN AMBITIOUS UNDERTAKING.

We publish in this issue a cut of the proposed new Zion Baptist church, which shows the ambitious undertaking of the Rev. W. F. Botts and his congregation. When completed, as the plans provide, the building will cost $30,000. Although begun two years ago, available funds have permitted only the erection of the basement walls to a height of about ten feet. The congregation in the meantime has been worshipping in a rented building. It is now proposed to roof in and fit up the basement for services, and as funds accumulate to complete the building. The wisdom of this plan must be apparent to all. It has been followed in the erection of some of the finest and costliest edifices in the country.

To many it may seem that our Baptist friends have been most unwise in undertaking the erection of such a costly building. But when one stops to consider that the proposed building is projected with the view of meeting the needs not only of the present congregation, but also those of a rapidly growing city, and realizes that the cost of the construction must necessarily be carried over a term of years during which the congregation will be constantly growing, the wisdom of planning largely will be justified. Should it be ten years before the structure is completed as planned it will be a credit to our city.

It is doubtless realized that it is a big undertaking and that there must be hearty co-operation and earnest work to complete it, but it does people good to undertake large things and work diligently and persistently and patiently until it is accomplished.

We wish the congregation of Zion Baptist church every success in speedily getting under cover in their own house of worship and express the hope that no discouragements will deter them even though it may take many years to do it, from completing the noble edifice which they have planned.

The Monitor enters with this number on the sixth month of its publication with grateful appreciation of the support given by subscribers and advertisers. We are delighted to know that the publication is giving such entire satisfaction to our constantly growing number of patrons, and we again desire to thank our many friends for their kind expressions of approbation and their appreciated support. While our growth has been all that we could desire we would like to add during this month at least 200 subscribers to our list. Would it be asking too much to suggest that two hundred of our friends and subscribers each try to send in one new yearly subscriber this month? By the way, you may have a former Omaha friend, now residing elsewhere who would enjoy reading the Monitor. It might not be a bad idea to send him or her, as a Christmas present, The Monitor for a year. It would be a present that would carry pleasure for a whole year and would cost only one dollar.

The New York Age calls attention to the omission of any reference whatsoever to the death of Booker T. Washington by President Wilson. It notes that two ex-presidents and a former vice-president, besides the governors of several states, north and south, and notable men and women, not only at home, but abroad, made some expression upon the passing of this great American, but that President Wilson was absolutely silent. It regrets the omission of this simple courtesy upon the part of the chief executive of the nation and very truly states that a suitable expression from him would have gone a long way towards creating a more kindly sentiment towards him on the part of the race who feel that they have just cause for grievance because of many reactionary methods of his administration.

If you have not yet paid your subscription for The Monitor, and many of you have not, please pay before you begin your Christmas shopping. The editor and staff would like to do a little early Christmas shopping, too, but—

Don't forget to buy Red Cross stamps. By so doing you are helping to fight tuberculosis or consumption.

Events Extraordinary.

Mr. William H. Lacey, a trained artist of exceptional ability, will sing at the extraordinary entertainment at Mt. Zion Baptist church Friday evening, December 17. Mrs. W. T. Osborne has in charge the occasion and will be supported by the DuBois Dramatic club in a one-act comedy-drama, "The Veiled Lady," which shows—well, come and see what it does show.

Other trained artists in both vocal and instrumental music and in readings and sketches from Shakespeare will appear on the program. A committee from the trustee board of Knights and Daughters of Tabor succeeded in getting Mrs. Osborne to give this entertainment for the benefit of the Taborian lot.

We are sure of a large attendance, as Mrs. Osborne's entertainments are always the very best. Admission will be 15c.

TRANSLATES SPANISH OPERA.

One of the most interesting occurrences in the literary and musical world is the coming production at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City, of Enrique Granados' Spanish opera "Goyescas." The words of the original opera are by Fernando Periquet but the English version translated from the Spanish has been done by James Weldon Johnson, the well known colored American. It is of peculiar significance that the greatest opera house in America in producing one of the newest and most striking operas should turn to an American Negro for an adequate English version. Both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Gatti-Casazza are to be congratulated.

CHOSEN CLASS ORATOR.

Daniel Ferguson, of Columbus, Ohio, has been chosen class orator for the class of 1916, at Ohio State University. This is the first time that a colored man ever was elected to a class honor in this institution.

Former Governor Lee Cruise of Oklahoma asserts that Negro disfranchisement is against moral law and that he has no fear of "Negro domination."

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward was held from Banks & Wilks' undertaking parlors Sunday afternoon. The Rev. W. T. Osborne officiated.

To answer the question often asked, "How much does it cost to insert a 'reading' (not display) advertisement among the local Events and Persons?" we desire to say that the rate is ONE CENT AND A HALF FOR ONE INSERTION and ONE CENT A WORD FOR TWO OR MORE continuous insertions. For example, if an advertisement contains twenty words and is published only in this week's issue it will cost THIRTY CENTS, but if it is to be run again next week, the cost of publication for the two weeks will be FORTY CENTS.

Arthur, the 13-year-old son of Arthur Campbell of 3323 Emmet street, was seriously injured Monday afternoon on his way home from school. There was a fire in the neighborhood and in running to the fire it is alleged that the boy ran directly in front of a battalion fire chief's automobile and was hurled thirty feet. His right leg and arm were broken and his scalp badly torn, besides it is believed that he was injured internally. He is in St. Joseph's hospital. Arthur is a bright, mannerly boy and his many friends hope for his speedy recovery. His mother died about a year ago and he and his father are devoted companions.

Two small families in Dallas, S. D., desire competent colored maids for general housework.

Mrs. Sadie Herman continues quite ill at the Clarkson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. J. H. Crawford, who two weeks ago underwent a serious operation at the Nebraska Methodist hospital, is improving and expects to be able to go home within a few days.

Mrs. S. L. Bush of Liberty, Mo., is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bush.

Miss Carmen Hackley of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting friends in Omaha. She has been the guest of honor at several social functions.

Cunnigan Wilson has been awarded a "C" for his work on the football squad of Creighton university.

Mrs. Lenora Selby, who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Tobitha Davis, left Monday for her home in Oakland, Cal. Mrs. Selby had a pleasant time meeting former Omaha friends and was surprised at the wonderful growth of the city.

The body of Mrs. Katie Drummond, mother of Mrs. Davis, 2511 North Twenty-sixth street, was shipped Saturday night by Jones & Chiles to Muskogee, Okla.

Union services by St. John's and Mt. Zion Baptist churches on Thanksgiving day were largely attended. The Rev. W. T. Osborne preached the Thanksgiving sermon, which was impressive and instructive.

XMAS PREPARATION.

Thanksgiving has past. All the worry, and bustle, and hurry for Christmas now begins. Everywhere appears the slogan: "Do your Christmas shopping early."

We are pondering in our minds "what shall I give him?" What will she like?" In the midst of all this preparation, let us stop to think of our real motive in giving. Let us prepare our hearts for this season of love and cheer. Let us remember that Christmas living is as important as Christmas giving. Dr. Frank Crane, in The Woman's World has beautifully brought out this thought in an article from which we quote in part:

"The greatest Christmas gift in the world is appreciation.

You cannot give anything that will please everybody—relatives, friends, and acquaintances—more than that.

If you do not give that, all your other gifts will amount to nothing.

There is hardly anything it will do so much good to realize as this fact. It will not only save us from heart-aches, but it will operate as a saving sauce and a redeeming flavor to all our other gifts.

And the day after it will leave us with a real Christmas taste in the mouth.

So, if you want this to be the most Christmasy Christmas of your life, to be fullest of joy and cleanest of all disappointment and inward wounds, the very best and brightest season of all the year, as indeed it should be, just undertake, first of all, to forget your own self—and set about to find something in every human being with whom life brings you in contact, something that you can and do appreciate.

You pass through this life but once. God sends you this and that man or woman to touch you here and there. Are you a fool to despise them. Or are you wise, to make of every human relationship a vehicle in some measure of that love and helpfulness that transforms the world?

If into every family could come this most precious of gifts—appreciation! What widening chasms of estrangement might be closed! What sore and suffering hurts might be lightened! What inner bitterness purged! And how the gentle and genial Spirit of the Christ Child would spread through and among us all, like a widening, shining river, reflecting back the sunshine of that Eternal Love that shines ever down upon us from Him who made and loves us all!"

THE SIN OF FRETTING.

There is one sin which is almost everywhere underestimated and quite too often much overlooked in valuation of character, and that is the sin of fretting. It is so common that unless it rises above its usual monotone we do not even notice it. Watch any ordinary coming together of people and see how long it will be before somebody frets, that is, makes more or less complaining statement of something or other which probably everyone in the room knew before, and which probably nobody can help. Why say anything about it? It is cold; it is hot; it is dry or wet; somebody has broken an appointment; or ill cooked a meal; or some stupidity has resulted in discomfort. It is simply astonishing how much annoyance may be found in the course of every day's living. The Bible says: "We are born to trouble, as the sparks fly upward." But for sparks that fly in the blackest smoke there is a blue sky above them, and the less time they waste on the road the sooner they will reach it. Fretting is just "time wasted on the road," and more than wasted.—The Messenger.

SOMEBODY'S BIRTHDAY.

This is somebody's birthday,

Just as sure as fate;

Some little boy is six years old,

Some little girl is eight.

Some little boy is three today,

Some little girl thirteen;

Some little twins are exactly two—

Two apiece, I mean.

Someone is eating his birthday cake

And laughing over the plums;

Some one is counting her birthday dolls

On all her fingers and thumbs.

Someone is bouncing his birthday ball,

Or winding his birthday top;

Some one is not too wise or tall

For birthday butterscotch.

Think of the beautiful birthday books,

Think of the birthday cheer;

Think of the birthday happiness

Every day in the year!

Every day in the year, my dear,

Every day we're alive,

Some happy child is one or two

Or three, or four, or five.

Science Notes

BY WILLIAM G. HAYNES.

NEW TESTS OF DEATH.

It is quite natural, says a contributor to The Medical Record (New York), that the speedy and accurate diagnosis of death should receive increasing interest in those countries in which the business of killing seems to have supplanted all other forms of human activity. He describes three new methods of determining the cessation of life, discussed recently in Le Clinica Medica Italiana.

"The first of these is the ether test. A drop of ether is instilled into the conjunctival sac of one eye. If this is followed by a reddening of the conjunctiva it affords proof that the circulation is intact and that life is still present. The other eye is used as a control. The second test . . .

consists in the subcutaneous injection of fluorescein, which, if the individual is still living, is soon followed by a yellowish coloring of the skin and mucosa. The conjunctiva and the mucous membrane of the mouth, and particularly of the frenum of the tongue, show this coloration most distinctly . . . A negative result is obtained in cases of marked slowing or enfeeblement of the circulation. . . The third test . . . consists in direct exploration of the heart by means of a stylet. This is introduced through a small incision in one of the intercostal spaces. Any movement in the heart is communicated to the stylet. In some instances of suspended animation it is possible to arouse cardiac activity by means of gentle movements of the stylet, combined with artificial respiration."—Literary Digest.

FLOORING THE SEA WITH CONCRETE.

While a large portion of the nations of the world are engaged in fighting one another, Holland quietly continues its age-long struggle against its old enemy, the ocean; every new attempt of the foe to snatch a bit of Holland's hard-won soil is met with some ingenious defensive device.

Some years ago, it was discovered on the coast of the island of Schouwen (in Zeeland) that, although the dykes remained intact, the waters oozed up in the dyke-protected polders; the sea was undermining the land, and this undermining process began far out from the coast under the waters. Insidiously the water ate into the land until the dykes, having lost their foundation, toppled over in their turn, leaving the sea undisputed master of the field. It was the engineer of the department of waterways for Schouwen, Mr. Yonk Heer (Yonk Heer is a title of nobility) de Muralt who devised a means of defense against these inroads. He caused the sea bottom itself, where it sloped away seawards from the foot of the dyke, to be strengthened by laying over it a flooring of concrete. Such a flooring is in reality a sort of "mat" composed of blocks of concrete, each of one meter (39.37 inches) square. Every such "mat" weighs 200,000 kilograms (220 tons).

It is constructed on an incline built over the water. When the "mat" is ready an iron pontoon is drawn up just above it, and by an ingenious system of hawsers and pulleys, the "mat" of concrete is hoisted up until it rests against the bottom of the pontoon where it is fastened by means of the hawsers. A tugboat then tows off the whole affair—pontoon and "mat"—to the spot where it has to be sunk.

This proved so effective that the Netherlands government adopted the method for all places where the coast is menaced.—Scientific American.

It pays to advertise in The Monitor.

Street and her companion, a student in Atlanta university, being the only colored people in the hall, which reversed public sentiment.

The Rev. W. F. Botts, pastor of Zion Baptist church, delivered a brief, but forceful address on "Dr. Washington as a Church Man." He emphasized the fact that the great leader never hesitated to bear testimony to the fact that he was a Christian and a Baptist. As a teacher before going to Tuskegee he took an active part in the work of his church and when he had attained fame he did not forget his duty to his Saviour. He had lived as a Christian man and died as a Christian man. He commended this fact to the attention of the men present as a matter which they should lay to heart. Mrs. William Saunders then sang with great effectiveness, "Abide With Me."

The Rev. John Albert Williams, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the resolutions which were adopted. The other members of the committee were Drs. Britt, Hutten, Gooden and Edwards, and Mesdames H. W. Black, Anna Lee and Kate Wilson.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Almighty God, in His Divine Wisdom, has removed from the sphere of his earthly life, which he richly adorned with singular gifts of leadership and altruistic service, which have made the whole world his debtor, BOOKER TALIAFERRO WASHINGTON, A. M.: LL.D., founder and builder of Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama; and

Whereas, Dr. Washington by his distinguished services has compelled not only the United States of America, but the entire world to look upon the Negro race with greater respect; and has bestowed a rich legacy upon the race of which he was such an eminent representative; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Negroes of Omaha, in memorial meeting assembled, place on record an expression, sincere though inadequate, of our appreciation of the services he has rendered not only to our race but to this great country of which we are a component part, and of our keen sense of the loss we have sustained in the cutting short of his career.

Resolved, That in the death of Booker T. Washington, the Negro race in America has lost its greatest leader and educator, in his unique and chosen field, which he made for himself in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles; its chief spokesman, who had the nation as his audience; the foremost interpreter of the black to the white race and its chief apostle of industrial self-respect and independence; and in him the country has lost the priceless services of one of the greatest men, irrespective of race or color, that America has yet produced.

Resolved, That we extend to his immediate family an expression of our sympathy in this their bereavement, in which also the race and nation shares, and commend them to Him Who alone can console the sorrowing and bind up the broken heart.

Resolved, That we ever hold before our children as an example and inspiration to high and noble endeavor for one's fellow men the career of Booker T. Washington, who made his way through difficulties to the stars.

Resolved, That we treasure his memory; emulate as far as we may his useful career; rise, individually and racially, to the heights where for us his hopes were set and thank God for the useful life of this His servant whom He hath called to well-earned rest.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family and to the secretary of the faculty of Tuskegee.

Mr. William Dudley, one of the best known and most influential colored citizens of South Omaha, died Monday of typhoid-pneumonia at his late residence. The funeral was held from Allen's chapel Wednesday afternoon. The church was filled to overflowing and many were unable to gain admittance. He is survived by a widow, a son and three daughters and several relatives. Rev. J. H. Nichols officiated and the undertaking firm of Jones & Chiles had charge of the funeral.

The New Era Dramatic club's meeting of November 26 was largely attended, most all of the members being present. The first production of the club is progressing nicely.
