

CANDIDATES ON ANXIOUS SEAT

RANDALL SHOULD BE ELECTED GOVERNOR

Both Candidates are Dryer Than the Sahara Desert

G. O. P. CANDIDATE BUSINESS MAN

Long Experience as Banker and Farm Manager Should Make Him Ideal State Executive—Bryan a Demagogue and Dreamer—Randall Holds No Prejudice Against Omaha—Douglas County Should Role Up Great Majority for Him.

The Mediator has hesitated until recently to declare itself one way or the other for Governor, for the very good reason that neither nominee was the first choice of this paper. Both men are dry, decidedly dry, so from that standpoint there is no choice for the tens of thousands of Omaha voters who are opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment.

There is hardly a liberal voter in the state that has made up his or her mind just who is going to be their final choice for governor. As the campaign draws to a close they are going to look up the past record of both candidates and vote according to the way they find the record of each without thought of how they stand on the prohibition question, as on that all important issue they can hope for absolutely no encouragement from either candidate.

It therefore resolves itself into a question of whether you want to vote for a recognized successful business man who is broad enough in his views to know that the people must live and be allowed to live their own lives in their own way whether they live in a metropolitan city like Omaha or in the remotest rural community, or whether they will cast their vote for a politician like Bryan who happens to be a brother to some one.

Charles H. Randall has lived in Nebraska for a great many years and is generally recognized as a clean upright man who has made a real and lasting success of life. He has had political experience as he was state senator for two terms during which time he helped frame much constructive legislation. Randall's business experience marks him as a careful and resourceful administrator of business affairs. He has had a successful career as banker and farmer and is now a farmer and farm manager on a large scale which will be to his advantage as head of our state government.

People are not afraid to trust their governmental affairs with a man who has been successful in his own business affairs and at the same time has gone through life with a clean personal record for honesty. He appeals to all classes as one who is peculiarly endowed with the acumen, the understanding and the ability to administer the executive affairs with the assurance that economy and efficiency will go hand in hand in the important policies of state government.

His public utterances on public questions have been most important, but more important still is his private and public career which is so outstanding, clean and honorable that his campaign slogan is "Read Randall's Record." He should make good and will, as governor of Nebraska during the next two years.

The Democrats nominated Charles Bryan who came into public notice and

SOME CANDIDATES WHO SHOULD BE ELECTED

Every Citizen Should Vote for Mabel Johnson for County Superintendent of Schools—James Allen for the Legislature—Curran for Commissioner—Sloup and Kubat Good Men.

We believe that every voter should cast their votes for the following candidates because they are representative citizens and deserve the support of every man or woman that has the real interests of Omaha and Douglas county at heart.

The Eighth District should and no doubt will send James Allen to the legislature as he is a man of wide experience and broad judgment. William J. Curran should be overwhelmingly elected as County Commissioner from the Fourth district. He is a clean cut gentleman who will do his part in seeing that the poor unfortunate of the county are treated as human beings and not like a bunch of half starved rats, as is now the case.

No good men are running for County Commissioner from the down town district, Adam Sloup, a forward looking man, and C. H. Kubat, assistant to the County Attorney. Both men are ideal candidates and whichever is elected will make good.

Douglas county wants and needs for County Superintendent one who is experienced in local school affairs, one who is a real resident of the county. Such a person is Mabel Johnson, present County Superintendent, seeking re-election. It is to be sincerely hoped that Mrs. Johnson will be retained to superintend our county schools.

OPEN LETTER OF OTTO SINKIE

To the Editor of the Mediator: I trust that you will publish this letter that your readers may be informed as to my views of the Volstead Act and how I will enforce the prohibition laws until they are amended.

I favor Light Wines and Beer and maintain that the Volstead Act is unsound in so far as it prohibits the manufacture and sale of them.

Experience proves that the prohibition laws cannot be strictly enforced and therefore, should be amended in the interests of good government. They breed disrespect and disregard for all law.

As to strong drinks, I will enforce these laws strictly, but as to Light Wines and Beer I will be lenient and reasonable. I regard a man's home as his castle.

I am running as an Independent Candidate for County Attorney on a Light Wine and Beer platform that the people may freely express their sentiment in favor thereof without regard to party politics. Congress will not modify the Volstead Act until the sentiment of the people has been clearly expressed for a change.

To legalize Light Wines and Beer would do more than anything else to reduce taxes.

Go to the polls, therefore, on November 7, 1922, and disregard mere party politics and express your sentiment in favor of modifying the Volstead Act by voting for me, and do all you can to persuade others to do likewise.

Yours for Light Wines and Beer and Clean Politics, Otto A. Sinkie.

ELECT OTTO BAUMAN COUNTY TREASURER

Otto Bauman is the logical candidate for County Treasurer because he has been Chief Deputy Treasurer for the past six years and deserves promotion. His years of financial and business training qualify him to conduct an economical and efficient administration. He is thoroughly honest and faithful to public trust which can not be truthfully said of his opponent. Make Bauman our next County Treasurer.

NO ONE SHOULD VOTE FOR DR. JENNIE CALFAS

There are ever so many reasons why Dr. Jennie Calfas should be turned down by the voters as a member of the school board, or for any other position for that matter. Her record up in Canada as given by one who says he is willing to go on the witness stand and testify is far from being what would be expected of a school board member, and the only reason we do not print it in this issue is that it would look like politics, so will be reserved for another time.

"DOC" TANNER SHOULD BE ELECTED TO STATE SENATE

"Doc" Tanner should be elected as one of the state senators from Omaha because he is the best fitted man for the place from the district he will represent. He has had broad experience in the legislature and really represents the people who are about to send him to Lincoln. He has always been a broad minded and liberal man and should be of real service to the city and state for the next two years.

Mr. Tanner is personally popular, is one of the best known newspaper men of the state, and will give a good account of his stewardship at the state capitol.

EATON TRIES TO BUTT IN ON DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOLS

A man by the name of Eaton who teaches or tries to teach some place out in the state is trying to be elected as Superintendent of Douglas County Schools. He claims he once lived here. At least he is running about the city and county just now trying to drum up a few votes while his school is being taught by some one else which might be a good thing for the pupils at that.

In desperation he went so far as to tell a local Swedish newspaper that Mabel Johnson, the present incumbent, was trying to fly under a Swedish flag among the swedes. This is a palpable untruth and we do not believe the Swedish paper will be fooled by it.

This man has never taught in Douglas county, knows nothing of local conditions, and has no right at this time to call Douglas county his home. We are kind to this gentleman to say nothing further about him. He is practically a non-resident and has no right to ask the suffrage of the local voters.

Mrs. Johnson, the present capable County Superintendent, has proven a great success and should be returned by the greatest majority ever given a candidate for this all important office.

The road to reform ain't no boulevard.

Fall styles for men make a loud noise.

CAMPAIGN WARMS UP ON EVE OF ELECTION

Hitchcock Will Carry Douglas County by Large Majority

RED HOT FIGHT IS ON FOR SHERIFF

Democrats Will Have Support of Thousands of Republican Voters in Sending Hanley to Congress—Otto Bauman, Lou Adams, Harry Pearce and Frank Dewey Sure of Election—Race for County Attorney May Be Close.

So many worth while candidates, both democratic and republican, are in the field that it is all but impossible to give them the individual space they are entitled to, but a final passing word will not come amiss at this time.

We believe that a democrat should be sent to represent Nebraska in the senate and that a democrat should also represent the Second District in this state. In fact there is but one way to rebuke the present administration for its many sins of omission and commission and that is by making the next congress democratic by a very substantial majority.

In the case of Senator Hitchcock, he should be re-elected because he stands head and shoulders above his opponent in every way. His long years of experience in the senate is argument enough that he be returned, but it is only one of many. Hitchcock has been right on every great issue that came before the country these many years past and may be relied on in the future to support democratic progressive legislation. Mr. Howell should be re-elected as a member of the Water Board, and defeated for senator.

James Hanley has a very excellent man for his opponent for congressman from this district, but he has none of the qualifications for the place that Mr. Hanley possesses. Omahans and people out in the country want a man to represent them who has been "thru the mill" at Washington and knows just what to do and how to do it.

They want a man who is young enough to hustle night and day in the interests of his constituency and to accomplish the things a man is sent to Washington to accomplish. The latch string to the door of the future Congressman Hanley will always hang out at the Capitol just as it always has here. Hanley in congress will mean that the interests of this district will be taken care of in a manner to please the people of this great and important district as well as the people of the state and nation.

Locally a man's party affiliation should make but little difference with the people. Both parties have put up good men for the principal offices. It is therefore probable that there will be thousands more split tickets here this election than is usual.

The republicans done well to renominate Mike Clark for another term as sheriff. He has no frills, tricks or toys, no affectation. He is just a straight forward man in every day life and conducts his office in a clean cut, open and correct manner. Mr. Clark has always been fair to all men and has made an excellent sheriff, but has never proclaimed from the housetops

MEMBERS OF EXCLUSIVE FIELD CLUB FAIL TO OBEY DRY LAW

Cart Booze to the Club in Their Own Machines and Enjoy Life as in the Days Before Volstead—Place Has Never Been Raided—Bankers and Prominent Business Men Are Leaders in Social Activities of Club.

It would appear that if one wants to load up on anything from fairly good hooch to alleged Canadian Club or even on some of the "Honest to goodness," bottled in a barn, genuine old fashioned whiskey, the thing to do would be to join the Field Club, where all kinds of the forbidden fruit juice runs like a golf ball on the fifth, sixth or seventh hole of the golf course.

There was a time when it was a cinch for anyone to join this now exclusive club, but that time is past as they are pretty well filled up and even the more exclusive element must wait their turn before entering the gates that lead to the more or less famous booze resort sometimes referred to as the club house.

The members, for the most part at least, carry their own booze and secrete it in their own private lockers. In a small way there may be a bit of private bootlegging by minor employees but the virtual river of booze that finds its way to the famous green is shipped in over the "Hip" route.

At a large number of the dinner parties it is noticed that many of the men and a goodly number of the women seem to be two, three or even more sheets in the wind, but the invited guest or those that are known to be against the "Oh Happy Day" stuff are not able to find out just how the trick is turned, without attracting notice. Quite a few of the regular visitors are always well supplied with the stuff, a few of them being at most times pretty much under the weather because of over indulgence.

The Field Club numbers among its many members some of the most prominent citizens of Omaha, including bankers, manufacturers, wholesale and retail merchants, as well as professional men and others who stand high in the social life of the city. While scores of members bring their booze to the place, there are an equally large number who are not only strictly temperate themselves but do not even dream that liquor can be found about the place.

No one has ever heard of the place ever being raided by either local or government enforcement officers, but it is just possible that neither of the enforcement organizations know that the prohibited stuff is going the rounds in rather easy fashion out there.

What is true of the Field Club is very probably true of other clubs in the city and in at least two instances drinking by members while at their clubs is probably more common than at this social rendezvous.

Gambling by golf enthusiasts on their own ability to out-chick Chick Evans is very common, especially among those who have taken on a few shots and pipe dream themselves that they can make the first hole in 1 and the round trip in 68 minus.

The government now has 116 liquor cases to try but not one came about as a result of a Field Club member being caught in the act of treating himself or his friends to a little snack of hooch out at this prominent social club.

Doings In Omaha Fifty Years Ago

Most movie and theatrical people had been singing a new refrain entitled "Harry Goldberg, of World Theatre fame, and his diamonds are soon parted." The public will be singing it in two weeks.

Old Bill Ure had been sending out a bunch of implied lies concerning the expense of the County Treasurer's office, but the people didn't believe it. Bill was a dead one in the village.

Judge Munger had given a nice little party up in Federal court. 116 boys attended, all of them reporting a nice time—we don't think. Everybody hoped for the best and didn't think the weinerwurst would be over ninety-nine years. Rock piles in Kansas were Gin mills on Thirteenth street had been working overtime and had been having a lot of fun kidding themselves as to how strong they were. Owners were to be given a chance to prove it.

Dagoes out near Sixteenth and Nicholas thought they were getting away with something but a wrathful wife and mother were about to show them a new trick in one angle of the bootlegging business.

In our village they had called her Dr. Jennie Calfas but up in Canada they say the old birds used to know her as Jen Mantell. The Old Dominion was a bum place to live in anyway.

URE SENDS OUT DECEPTIVE LITERATURE TO BOLSTER LOST CAUSE

Candidate for County Treasurer on Republican Ticket Treats Voters as Fools When He Attempts to Compare Expense of Office in 1912 With 1921—Playing Last Trump Card in Vain—People Next to Him

About the dirtiest and most misleading piece of political literature that has ever come to the notice of the editor of this paper is contained in a pamphlet which recently reached this office. It is a bit of political rot sent out by the overly press-agented christian, William G. Ure, a political non-descript who has the nerve to ask the people of this county to elect him county treasurer next Tuesday.

An implied lie is much worse than a real one in the eyes of most decent people and we believe that the tenets of most churches teach that such a lie, such a palpable deception, is much worse in the eyes of the Great Jehovah than is the ordinary straight laced fabrication. So we would call the attention of the voters to one of the implied false statements that originated in the very deceptive mind of the supposedly astute politician, "Bill" Ure, who has the guts to ask the suffrage of Douglas county voters.

The pamphlet says of him: "Comparing one year only, 1916 (Mr. Ure's last year) the cost of maintaining the treasurer's office was $59,095.00, and in 1921 (under Endres) $105,848.00." We believe the figures correct, but know that only the worst kind of political rat would give them without an explanation that in justice to all voters is or should be forthcoming.

Here are the facts in the case: When Ure served his last term of office it required only a personnel of sixteen employees to handle the affairs of the office. At that time South Omaha, Benson, Florence and outlay-ing districts were not a part of Omaha proper. At that time the business and receipts of the office were comparatively small to what they are today.

It now requires the services of forty-nine men to handle the business conducted by the county treasurer and they are on the job every minute of the day. From 1912 until Ure left the treasurer's office in 1916 the standard salary paid clerks was $90.00 per month, presumably a fair average at that time. Today the same men for the same work get $140.00, which in buying power is probably not as much as was the $90.00 in 1912. However, the difference in figures are impressive to the man or woman that does not stop to consider them or the financial changes that have taken place since the county was rid of Ure.

Ure intimates that if elected he will attempt to run the office as he did in the years 1912-1916. How is he going to do it? Fire thirty-three men? Not on your life, it is impossible. If anything he or Bauman will probably have to add additional men to the payroll, as the business of the office grows greater. Does he propose to put the men in the office, who in large part are experts at and in their line of work and for the most part are the head of a family, back to the old wages of ninety dollars a month? He knows full well that he can do no such thing, and if he could what do the men who work for a living think of that? What would the average business man think of it?

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

INHERITED, PERHAPS

Little Girl (before statue in museum)—Mamma, what's this?
Attendant after pause—That's Mercury, the messenger of the gods. You have read about him, no doubt.
Mother—Of course she has. But, do you know, my little girl has such a very poor memory for Scripture.

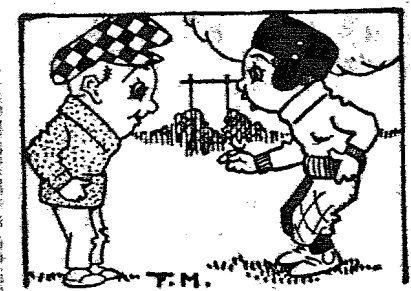

When the Fiddles Moan.
"Do you care for grand opera?"
"No," said Mr. Dubwaite. "I'm afraid I'm not equal to it. I know there must be times when grand opera stars express joyous emotions, but all I've ever heard sing seemed to be terribly sorry about something and I couldn't find out what it was."

Vague, but Useful.
"My hat is in the ring!" exclaimed Senator Sorghum.
"What do you mean by that?"
"I don't know exactly what it means. But that phrase is a very valuable one. I have never known an occasion when it wasn't good for a round of applause."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Keeping Her in Gloves.
"Is your son-in-law a good provider?"
"He can just about keep my daughter in gloves. I pay for everything else."
"Then he deceived you as to his circumstances?"
"No, I distinctly remember he merely asked for her hand."

Wise Man.
"Well, anyway, I saved time during that holdup," grinned the first victim of the bandits.
"How's that?" inquired his fellow victim.
"When that robber was going through your pockets I slipped my watch up my sleeve," he replied.

The Wise Plan.
"Mr. Meekingham has great presence of mind."
"Is that so?"
"Yes, while he was proposing to Miss Stronghead instead of saying, 'Will you be mine?' he said, 'May I be yours?'"

A CALL-DOWN
Obnoxious Football Player: Look here, coach, there are two fellows not fit to be on our team at all.
Coach (calmly): That so? Who's the other.

No Devotee.
He takes his wife on fishing trips—I speak of William Henry Pippa—Which doubtless started the report that he's not keen about the sport.

Got Back at Him.
Hub—I think I'll get a magnifying glass so that I will be able to see the steaks you cook for my dinner.
Wife—Good idea! It might also enable me to see the money you give me to buy them with.

Ignorance Is Bliss.
Husband—Syntha, when I looked at my accounts last night I nearly died of fright. Our motor car is costing us over $500 a year!
Wife—Well, Alec, don't blame me! I advised you not to keep an account!—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Sport in the Jungle.
The Hippo—If I'd known there was going to be such a crowd I'd have bought ringside seats. We can't see a thing from here.
The Giraffe—I think these seats are fine. I can see everything.

Completing Her Collection.
Helen—People say it is awfully good of her to marry him. He has an artificial arm and an artificial leg.
Marie (sweetly)—Yes, about the only artificialities she hasn't got herself.

Just Nothing at All.
Mr. Cheerup—Look pleasant, my man. The fellows who succeed are those who can smile.
Mr. Lowdown—Sure! That's what makes 'em smile. What have the other guys got to smile about?

Disagreements.
"Do you resent the fact that a man does not agree with you?"
"Not at all," replied Senator Sorghum. "In looking over my speeches of a good many years ago I find that I do not always agree with myself."

Has the Last Say.
Caller—I must say, Helen, that your husband looks as if he had a will of his own.
Hostess—So he has, dearie; but I always add a codicil to it.

PATRIOTISM.

"This idea comes from abroad."
"Yes?"
"War profiteers ought to feel grateful to the ex-kaiser for starting the recent row."
"Our profiteers are too patriotic for that, but some of them might smile slyly when war contracts are mentioned, and admit that Uncle Sam is a good old scout."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Independent.

"This poem," said the timid caller, "is free verse."
"I don't care whether it's free or not," said the editor of the Chiggerville Clarion. "My paper this week is crammed full of paid-in-advance political advertising and I wouldn't publish the best piece of poetry ever written."

Something to Consider.

"Always remember, my boy," said the man who was fond of giving advice, "that Caesar, having made up his mind, went ahead. He crossed the Rubicon."
"I know," the boy replied, "but the way he dressed there wasn't any danger of gettin' his pants wet."

HE WAS WISE

He: Darling, I wouldn't swap you for any ten other wives.
She: Oh, George.
He: No, girl. Living's too high these times.

Present Realities.

The heroes of a classic age, Oh, why should we their deeds recall? We read upon the sporting page Of live ones who can hit the ball.

Discouraging a Helpful Spirit.

"I don't understand that new woman next door," remarked Mrs. Gadder.
"What's the trouble?"
"She calls herself a seeker after the truth. I've told her everything I know about the people around here, but she doesn't seem to be the least bit interested."

The Prize.

"Then you wouldn't let him propose?"
"Not last night."
"Why not?"
"We were at a bridge."
"Hasn't he won you?"
"Yes, but I didn't want it said that he won me at a bridge party."

Getting Square.

"You don't mind if I leave my hat on, do you?" asked the sweet young thing of the short man in the seat behind her at the pictures.
"Not at all, miss! Not at all!" replied the little man. "I enjoy looking at bargains."—London Tit-Bits.

Under Suspicion.

"How long had he lived a life of crime?"
"Only one year, he told the court. For six years previous to that time he was a taxicab driver."
"Umph! That means seven years of crime in all."

Sufficient Excuse.

"I've just heard the news," interestingly said an acquaintance. "Why do you suppose John Schott killed his hired man?"
"I know," replied the gaunt Mis-sourian, "unless it was 'cuz he acted like a hired man."

Personal Charm Absent.

Fair Aspirant (with manuscript)—Do please let me read my story to you.
Publisher—Don't trouble, my dear young lady, my reader will see it.
Fair Aspirant—Yes, but he won't see me.

HIS ATTENTIONS NOT WELCOME

"My love for you drives me mad," "I think I'm the one to get mad about it."

Cheer.

Let's give a cheer For Old Man Banks. He never moves "A vote of thanks."

Apprehensive.

"This is a fashionable grillroom."
"Yes, Tessie; all the other ladies are smoking."
"So I see. Do you think they will put us out for not smoking?"

Truth vs. Poetry.

"They say he fell at her feet the first time he ever saw her."
"No, that's the poetic version. The fact is he fell over them."

JUST FUN

THE BEST AVAILABLE

The new servant had presented her references, and the lady of the house read them over with a doubtful eye.
"I'm not quite satisfied with these, Bridget," she said.
"Nayther am I, mum," returned Bridget angrily, "but they're the best the old fool would give me."—American Legion Weekly.

Confidence.

"You know this movie didn't cost $1,000,000."
"I'm not prepared to argue that question," replied the eminent producer.
"But—"
"Say no more. My publicity director says it cost that much, and I'm the last person in the world to doubt his veracity."

Vicarious Exertion.

"Are you still taking exercise to music?"
"No," said Dubwaite, "I'm taking it by proxy."
"How's that?"
"I sit in a cabaret and watch the leader of a jazz orchestra call on the saxophone players."

Ma Butts In.

"Pa, what do they mean by going from the sublime to the ridiculous?" asked Clarence.
"It means a girl dreams of marrying some wonderful prince and then goes and ties herself up to a boob like your father," snapped ma.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Spelling His Plans.

Green (new to country life)—Where are those duck eggs I brought home yesterday?
Mrs. Green—I put them under the hen.
Green—Under the hen? Good heavens! And I wanted to hatch out ducks from those eggs.

CHILDHOOD GAME

Brother Tom—How do you get the kids to Fletcherize so nicely.
"By making a game of it."
"I see. Playing chew-chew."

Contributed Verse.

A motorcyclist, wildly fleet,
Ran into Deacon Brace.
The cyclist fell some twenty feet,
The deacon fell from grace.

Defined.

The visitor was examining the class.
"Can any little boy tell me what a fish net is made of?" he inquired.
"A lot of little holes tied together with strings," smiled the never-failing bright boy.—Wesleyan Advocate.

Improved Machinery.

"I haven't heard any evidences of a political machine in your campaign."
"I have one, just the same," said Senator Sorghum. "The new models are more nearly noiseless than the old-fashioned kind."

Not to Be Laughed At.

"Has the American woman a sense of humor?"
"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "But the American man is so estimable and well meaning that her sense of politeness overcomes it."

Part of It.

Binks (in girl and music show)—Nice song, eh? Do you know the chorus?
Jinks—Not so loud, my wife is with me. I know that little blonde on the end.

Service.

"Not many old-fashioned housekeepers left," declared the grocer.
"No?"
"No. Some of our customers expect us to supply dyed eggs for them."

Diversion.

"Do you subscribe to the agricultural publications?"
"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "We've got to have a little somethin' to take our minds off of politics."

Poor Mary.

"Mamma, why do they wax people?"
"They don't; where did you get that idea?"
"I heard uncle tell papa that at midnight the party waxed Mary."

Keen Housekeeping.

"Y'see, on Sundays we rise late. Then we don't need much breakfast, because it is so near lunch time and we don't need any lunch because we've just had breakfast."

SOME SMILES

DOMESTIC NOTE

"Poor Mrs. Jones!" sighed the sympathetic neighbor. "She must lead an awful life. She tells me her husband hasn't a single fault; he is a perfect man."
"But that should make her happy!"
"Not any. Why, what on earth could she have to keep up a conversation with him?"

Up to the Minute.

"So your son Bill is going to law school?" asked a neighbor of Farmer Furlough.
"Yep," answered the farmer. "But he don't pay no attention to his books. I reckon mebbe he's goin' to be one of these unwritten lawyers I've read about."

An Appropriate Title.

Perkins—I wonder why they named this picture theater the Beehive?
Parkin—Have you ever seen any of their pictures?
"Never."
"Well, if you ever do you'll know the reason, all right, because after each one you feel as though you'd been stung!"—London Answers.

Services in Demand.

"How rich is Mr. Wadleigh?"
"He must have a great deal of money."
"Yes?"
"I understand he has been invited by a number of candidates to become the master mechanic of their political machines."

The Big Expense.

What a very stunning coat of arms. I'm sure you ought to be very proud of it."
"We are. But George says it will cost a lot to put it on the door of the limousine."
"Why? Because it's so intricate?"
"No. Because we have to get the limousine first."

INVITATION TO THE DANCE
"Shades of Chesterfield! What an invitation to the dance."
"What did the young man say to the girl, Colonel?"
"Come on, kid, let's jazz."

Misleading Applause.

The orator the public notes
And to applause is stirred;
And yet some chap will get the votes
Who scarcely said a word.

Right at Hand.

Irate Boss (to caller who has left the door wide open)—Sir, do you know what good manners are?
The Caller—I'm just your man. I have here for your consideration the best book on etiquette that was ever published.

Spills the Beans.

"I've given up telling my wife anything."
"So have I mine. It simply goes in at one ear and out at the other."
"That isn't the trouble with my wife. It goes in at one ear and comes out of her mouth."

Forestalling a Touch.

"Morning, Mr. Dodge." "Good morning, sir."
"Could you lend a little financial assistance to a friend?"
"Thanks. I need—"
"The friend I have in mind is now touring Europe."

Incorrigible.

Teacher (to literary class)—Now, give me some word like "bemoan."
First Pupil—Bedev.
Second Ditto—Bedaub.
Third Ditto—Bespatter.
Fourth Ditto—Begorra!

According to Quality.

Flubb—Brown paid $25 for one of his photographs.
Dubb—Wasn't that rather steep?
Flubb—Not at all! It happened to be a snapshot of himself kissing a bathing beauty at the beach!

Nineteen billion conversations were carried on over American telephone wires last year. Telephone companies having figured this out, also find that the distance covered by these messages was 45,000,000,000 miles. Six million messenger boys, working nine hours a day, would be required to deliver all the messages that pass over the telephone wires. Forty-six years ago there was only one telephone belonging to Bell, its inventor. It was a crude device compared with the phone you use today. Perfection comes rapidly in our age. Do you remember when you had to turn a crank to attract central's attention?

HARVARD FOOTBALL CANDIDATES PREPARED FOR STRENUOUS WORK

The photograph would indicate that school was out and shows the football candidates at Harvard university trotting out on the field for practice. A large squad reported at first practice and evidently were full of pep for they put plenty of energy into their preliminary work.

BATTER WHIFFS WHILE BACKSTOP HOLDS BALL

A semi-pro pitcher, who joined the Indians recently, being recruited out of the sandlots, tells this yarn on the Twilight league in Cleveland:

In a certain game the teams played extra innings and it was so dark you could hardly see your hand in front of you. The home club was at bat with a man on third and two out. The visiting catcher, smart in his generation, walked out to the pitcher and said: "Give me that ball. Now you wind up and I'll punch the glove when you get through with your motion."

The catcher put the ball behind his protector, and squatted behind the plate. The count was three and two and two out. The pitcher wound up and made the motion of throwing. The catcher slapped his glove and showed the ball right behind the heart of the plate.

"Strike three!" yelled the umpire.

"You blind fool!" roared the batter, "that ball was a foot outside."

STALLINGS LIKES ART NEHF

Once Paid $2,500 Out of His Own Pocket for Clever Little Giant Southpaw Hurler.

George Stallings sat in the grand stand of the Polo grounds watching Arthur Nehf. "That's the boy I paid $2,500 for out of my own pocket when I had the Boston team," soliloquized the sage of Rochester. "Paid it when everybody else passed him up. He won three shut-out games for me off the reel, and Jim Gakney gave me my money back. He couldn't field his position at all when he came in, but he set to work and made himself one of the best there is.

WILLIE KEELER STOOD HIGH

He Was Small in Stature, But Usually Adept in Placing Hits—Feared No Pitcher.

Baseball students are given to ask if there was ever a more scientific batsman than "Wee" Willie Keeler.

He retired from the game in 1912 and was one of the smallest players who ever played big league ball. The opposing team never knew where to play for the little fellow.

If the shortstop moved over toward third base in an effort to kill one of Keeler's rollers, he would lay it where the shortstop should have been. He used to choke the bat, the smallest he could find, and lay down perfect bunts. Keeler has a record of beating out five hits in one game all of which were fielded by the shortstop. And make no mistake, he could hit the ball as hard as anybody. He was one of the most popular ball players that ever lived.

GRID WORK OF DOBIE

Coaches can't make football teams, but have you noticed as some football coaches migrate, their schools eventually, some very quickly, develop strong elevens? Dobie went to the Navy from the West, where his record was outstanding, and built the foundations of the strong Navy eleven. Then he contracted to rescue the vanishing grid-iron glories of Cornell. The first thing he did was to startle Cornell by placing some of the regulars on the reserve and starting with speedier, uneducated players to build up the Cornell eleven.

FOOTBALL IS GREAT CHARACTER BUILDER

Makes a Man Realize What He Is Good For, Says Fisher.

Lesson Learned on Field of "Never Give Up" Will Stay With Player Through Life—Game Being Constantly Developed.

Bob Fisher, head football coach at Harvard university, sees the real value of football in molding the character of the players.

"My idea has always been," says Fisher, "that football, properly handled, is one of the greatest character builders to be found today."

Coach Bob Fisher.

"It brings out every bit of courage and grit that is in a man."

"And that lesson learned on the football field—the lesson of 'never give up' will stay with him all his life."

"It will help him over the rough sledding and keep him plugging, when other men quit."

"No matter how letter perfect a team may be in the mechanical part of the game, unless the players have that proper mental viewpoint, they will not be a success."

Constant development of the game keeps a man busy, Fisher finds.

"Not only must he figure out his own mode of attack but he has to frame a defense against the other fellow's constantly changing attack," he says.

"Football is still in the evolutionary stage. While at present the tendency of the game is not to increase the use of the aerial attack, you can't tell from one season to the other what new formation will be devised."

"But I do not believe that any radical changes will be made."

PUT THE RED CROSS DRIVE OVER

Plans for the Red Cross membership campaign have been completed and the dates set for November 13 to 16 inclusive. Many worthy projects and charities come before the people of this city and the country but none that commands more favorable attention or receives the all but unanimous moral and financial support of all the people.

The committee in charge has sent to the Mediator the following article which we feel should be read and favorably acted upon by every reader of this paper. After telling how the city is divided into districts the letter goes on to say:

Omaha's quota is $25,000, but the committee in charge, headed by Dr. A. C. Stokes, who saw active service in France, said that this quota would probably be doubled. A membership in the Red Cross is only $1, and, because the sum is so nominal, those interested in the drive feel that Omaha will come to the front, as it did during the trying times of the war.

"This is a crisis for the Red Cross," said Dr. Stokes. "Some people feel that the Red Cross died with the war, but the Red Cross existed before the war, and is even a bigger necessity in peace times."

The Home Service Section is the most important branch of the Red Cross. This section handled 903 new cases and 1,450 old ones from January 1st to October 1st, 1922. The service given in the different cases differs greatly. All of these cases deal with the problems of the ex-service men, mostly the disabled ones. Some of the boys—and they were the ones who fought for when we needed them—were assisted in prosecuting their compensation claims against the government, some were helped in filing bonus applications; some in getting certificates as substitutes for lost discharges, and in hundreds of cases various kinds of applications and affidavits had to be filled out. In nearly every case financial assistance and important advice were given. In fact, the ex-service man (and his family) can come to the Home Service Section with any of his troubles, and, when he leaves, he feels that the citizens of our country appreciate and still remember what he did for us on the battlefield.

Another important department of the Omaha Chapter, American Red Cross, is looking after undernourished school children. Everyone realizes what an important task this is. During the past school semester, 1,506 children, attending Omaha schools, were entered into nutrition classes under the school nurses, and were furnished milk at the expense of the Red Cross.

Dr. Stokes especially calls the attention of the public to the wonderful work done by the Red Cross during the terrible tornado which occurred in Omaha on Easter Sunday in 1913. Even though Omaha was not a member of the National Red Cross, that organization spent over $40,000 here, furnishing shelter and food for those whose houses were wrecked and who had no money with which to rebuild their homes.

"Omahans will never forget this wonderful service," said Dr. Stokes. "Omaha is doubly obligated to the Red Cross. Their work during the war, which no one can deny, was the most wonderful of all, and their work during the terrible disaster here. During the three days of the drive I know that the Omaha men and women will pay their dollars gladly to keep up their membership in this most wonderful organization."

RANDALL SHOULD BE ### ELECTED GOVERNOR

whatever degree of fame he may have attained as the brother of The Boy Orator of the Platte. He has never done anything worth while on his own initiative unless it was to help create a municipal coal yard, a little hell in general and a sentiment against one-sixth of the population of the state who happen to live in Omaha by the other citizenship of our great state through his insincere prattling. He should be decisively defeated and Omaha voters can do it and will.

CAMPAIGN WARMS UP

ON EVE OF ELECTION

his greatness, for cheap political advertising purposes. He has a business like way of doing things in his official capacity that appeals to all fair minded men. There is not a squarer or fairer man seeking public office than Mike Clark.

The republicans nominated three other men who now hold down various places to which they again aspire. They are Frank Dewey, Louis Adams and Harry Pearce, all good men who should be elected. Frank Dewey has been County Clerk for ten years and has made good every minute. He brought about the consolidation of the Auditing department with the County Clerk's office and after advocating the consolidation of the City and County Tax Departments, he finally accomplished this under his own administration and supervision and saved the county thousands of dollars. Elect Dewey if you want an experienced man as your next County Clerk.

Lou Adams has been County Surveyor for eight years and has a thorough knowledge of all the duties of the office. He has accomplished wonders in the supervision of the 630 miles of highway in Douglas county. Adams should and will be elected by a great majority.

Harry Pearce is the third of the trio that seeks re-election. He is a man who is always on the job and people having business with his office have found that they can always find him at his desk ready for service at all times during office hours. Pearce has made an enviable record for efficient service and economy and the general public is not going to forget him on election day. Harry has collected nearly fifty thousand dollars in surplus fees during his administration, which is an unusual record.

One republican that should be decisively defeated at the coming election is "Wild Bill" Ure, who is a good politician but a poor man to have for county treasurer.

If a woman is pretty she is glad she is a woman.

Bigamy is no joke; it's durned hard work.

"Honors of war" is a great big nothing.

URE SENDS OUT

DECEPTIVE LITERATURE

TO BOLSTER LOST CAUSE

Ure knows that he will be unable to reduce the general expense of the office and yet by supposedly cunning methods tries to deceive the public and make them believe that by some Ure-erian feat of slight-of-hand legerdemain he is going to bring the expense of running the county treasurer's office back to where it was ten or twelve years ago. It is cheap political rot which he admits when later on he says in his circular that "You can depend upon Mr. Ure to keep them (the expenses) as low as is consistent with prompt, courteous and helpful service." Get that, Mr. Voter. As low as is consistent—following the figures he quotes when the office was doing a comparatively small amount of business during the years he held office.

By the way, this same sanctimonious Bill Ure has not denied that he received ten thousand dollars during his last year in the treasurer's office for work in connection with the winding up of the wholesale business of Brodegard's wholesale jewelry business, or that he used his private stenographer, paid for by the county, to help him in his private capacity as high mogul in the untangling of the Brodegard affair. Neither has he told the people how he was nominated the first time for county treasurer.

If there ever was a political leach who deserved a rebuke at the hands of republican as well as democratic voters, it is this man Ure, who is strong for office if he is the one to decorate the swivel chair.

Political platforms are built of slippery elm.

Everybody knows more than anybody.

NO PUT OUTS AT FIRST

Among the first basemen in baseball, who have loafed through a game without making a single putout are McCauley, who played with the Washington Americans in 1891, who didn't have anything to do on August 6, that year; Jiggs Donohue, who died in an asylum in Columbus, O., July 10, 1913, and who made his record while with the Chicago White Sox, May 23, 1906. It will be remembered that Donohue accepted the greatest number of chances in a season in 1907. Jiggs accepting 1,986 chances in 157 games. Artie Hofman, while playing for the Cubs against Pittsburgh, June 24, 1910, went through a game without a putout and only one assist.

FIGHTERS GET LAZY BY REMAINING IDLE

Don't Fight Often Enough, Says Old-Time Scrapper.

Tom Sharkey Expresses Belief That James Jeffries or Joe Choyinski Could Have Easily Defeated Jack Dempsey.

Tom Sharkey, the old-time heavy weight, does not think so much of modern glove fighters. In a recent conversation he said: "These present-day champions are all right, but I don't think they compare with the old ring men who really knew what the word 'fight' meant. Dempsey has to come to his opponent to be effective and that is just what 'Jeff' liked. He slaughtered every one who did it. Another man who I think could easily have beaten Dempsey was Joe Choyinski. He fought like Jeffries and he was there when in his prime. In my opinion

Jack Dempsey.

There is only one of the old-timers whom Dempsey could have beaten, that is Jim Corbett. I think he would have knocked out Corbett as easily as Jeffries would have beaten him. I am not underestimating Dempsey. I won $2,500 the day he whipped Willard, and I seconded Jack the day he stopped Carl Morris. In my opinion Willard was not a coward, but he lacked a fighting heart, which every fighter must have if he ever hopes to win laurels in the prize ring. All that Willard was interested in was the cash, and Tex Rickard set a record when he hung up $100,000 for the big Westerner in his championship contest with Dempsey. The trouble with boxers today is that they don't work hard enough when they reach the top. When they gain the championship they become actors and let their strength ebb away at some soft job. Dempsey is a champion today, but he would have received little mention when I was fighting."

INTERESTING SPORT NOTES

University of Illinois will lose 12 star athletes by graduation.

Paying for playing golf may leave less money to bet on each hole.

The New York Canoe club, organized in 1871, is the oldest in the United States.

Omer Perreault of Montreal intends to try the English channel swim this summer.

A play-by-play service on the chess tournament probably would necessitate at least weekly bulletins.

Syracuse university lacrosse team won 19 victories in succession and the northern intercollegiate title.

A total of 1,436 harness meetings were held last year in the United States, according to an official report.

Mr. Willard says he will be ready to fight Mr. Dempsey in the fall. Jess evidently intends to pass out along with the leaves.

A stadium for cricket is the plan of the Longwood Cricket club of Boston, which contemplates the construction of a modern bowl where games will be staged.

MIGHT PREFER OTHER PLACE

"Do you suppose jazz musicians will go to heaven?"

"Maybe so," replied Mr. Grumpson. "According to the modern idea, nearly everybody is going to heaven, but I won't present my credentials to St. Peter until I find out whether or not they'll have to check their horns at the gate."

Hard Labor.

"Well," said the shoe drummer, "what's going on in Chiggersville today?"

"Heard about Zeke Dawley?" asked Squire Witherbee.

"No. Has he gone to work?"

"Yes. Quite a number of our citizens were on hand to see him accept a position. In fact, the courtroom was crowded."

Poor Chance for Him.

He—What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you? She—He'd refer the matter to me. He (hopefully)—And what would you do?

She—I'd refer the matter to Mr. Smart, who proposed to me and was accepted while you were trying to make up your mind.

DEADLY OVERDOSE

"What experience did you have with the roach poison I sold you last week?"

"Not so good, not so good. All the roaches did well on it, and I think are looking better, except one. He liked it so well he made a durned pig of himself and fundered. I'm afraid I'm going to lose him."—Philadelphia Retail Ledger.

No Chance Left.

"I think he must be a hopeless failure."

"Hopeless? Has he tried many things?"

"Everything. Even to the writing of moving picture scenarios."

"And failed at that?"

"Absolutely."

"It does seem that there is nothing left for him."

TED AND HOMER BLANKENSHIP AID WHITE SOX AT CLOSE OF SEASON

Among the mainstays of the Chicago White Sox at the end of the season were Homer and Ted Blankenship, shown in the photograph. Ted, a Texas rookie, joined the team sometime ago and made good from the start. Satisfied with Ted's work, Manager Gleason thought it would be a good idea to take on the brother and Homer was signed. He also made good. Now the Blankenships are the only team of brothers on an American league pitching staff.

Hubby—I think you married me because I had a little money.
Wife—You know that isn't true. I'd have married you if you'd had twice as much.

AN EXCEPTION

She—I really think there's a fool in every family, don't you?
He—I hope there isn't, because, you see, I am the only member of our family.

HELPFUL SUGGESTION

The waiter—How'd you like a slice of nice hickory-cured country ham with three or four fresh eggs, right off the nests?
The customer—Fine! Just the thing!
The waiter—Ain't it so? Too bad, we ain't got none.

Unknown Australia.

A motoring expedition which will occupy months and cover ground hitherto untraversed without the aid of camels and donkeys is being undertaken from Adelaide for Darwin, returning through the bush country of Queensland, New South Wales, and Victoria, approximately 8,000 miles. The party includes Mr. McCallum, a state legislator and authority on pastoral stock, who is financing the trip and will report to the federal government on the possibilities of settlement and development of the interior by whites, also on the benefits of a transcontinental line. Captain White, a noted ornithologist, will collect birds in connection with the Australian check list which has occupied scientists for years and will be completed in October.—London Times Weekly.

Burmese Story of Man's Origin.
A myth current among the Burmese says that heavenly beings came down from the skies to the earth, and there ate Thalesan, a particular kind of rich rice, which gradually made them gross of habit, so that they were unable to make their way back to the higher heavens again and had to become men and women.

The Chins have a story of the Tower of Babel to account for the various clans that inhabit the range of hills looking down on the Bay of Bengal, and traditions of a deluge are found everywhere.

The Kachins tell a story of the passage over a bridge, to the afterlife, and there are many more of the kind that suggest these folk-myths come down from a long-gone past.

To Tell Time Elsewhere.

For the convenience to know the time in other leading cities of the world as compared with New York time, a new desk clock has been placed on the market. This comprises an attractive brass front in the center of which is a small clock, says the New York Times. Surrounding the clock is a dial. This is marked with lines on which are placed the names of the various important cities. By turning the dial to the current time in New York the hour at San Francisco, London, Paris, Petrograd, Rio de Janeiro, Tokyo and other cities may be ascertained. The dial is marked with a dark portion, representing the night hours, and the entire face is easily read.

TWO OLD-TIMERS TALK OF BALL'S LIVELINESS

Harry Lord and Jack Chesbro, one an infielder and the other a pitcher in the American League a decade and a half ago, perhaps express the opinion of most veterans when they say that the present-day article of diamond play is less a matter of fine skill and more of hitting, or ability to take advantage of the ball's liveliness. "The pitcher had more of a chance in the old days," Chesbro puts it. "It took a long, hard drive to get the ball by the outfielders then, but now nearly anyone can send one over the fence." Lord advocates a "happy medium" in the resiliency of the ball. If some of the old-timers had the lively ball in their prime, he says, they would have made three, four or five hits in almost every game.

INTERESTING SPORT NOTES

A boxing commission is like a football-rules committee, only more so.

About the only institution that has not felt the industrial situation is golf.

The shortage of coal will also cut down the attendance in the hot stove league.

It is said that the football rules are perfectly clear after they have been translated.

Talk as you will, no promoter seriously wants to stage a Dempsey-Harry Wills battle.

Clarence Rowland has resigned as manager of the Columbia club of the American association.

The tennis finals again showed that a good big man is generally better than a good little one.

Thomas Lovelace, an outfielder from the Dallas club, has been bought by the Pirates. He is a hard hitter.

Fred Johnson, the young pitcher obtained by the Giants from San Antonio, is said to be a great hitter.

Time flies. For the first time in years Edward Trowbridge Collins is not mentioned in an all-star capacity.

Chester Lucas, pitching ace of the Newport News Virginia league club this season, has been sold to the New York Giants.

The title of "Miracle Man" belongs to Fred Mitchell this year. To finish behind the Phillies is nothing short of a miracle.

Howard Camnitz, once a star twirler of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is now piloting the Winchester team of the Blue Grass league.

One fine thing about football in the high schools: the candidates are too tired when they reach home to do any of the chores.

In a handicap tournament at the Brooklands golf club, C. A. Lindsay won the greens committee cup. It is Lindsay's first year at golf.

Gerald L. Patterson of Melbourne will not defend the British tennis championship at Wimbledon next June. Business requirements will interfere.

The New York state boxing commission has turned over to the state more than $350,000 over its own operating expenses in the last 18 months.

"Rabbit" Benton, Ty Cobb of the South Atlantic league, has been bought by the Phillies. Benton was a star batter and base stealer with Charleston.

John Layton, of the St. Louis national three-cushion billiard champion, has accepted the challenge of Robert L. Channetax of New York for a title match.

Paul B. Stager, a former crack shortstop on the Wesleyan nine and a backfield grinder of note, has been purchased by the Pittsburgh Pirates from Memphis.

Burney Acton, a youngster who has been playing great ball for the Bufaula team in an independent league in Alabama, has been taken on by the New York Yankees for a trial.

I. M. Huffman, 22, Chandlersville, O., former star left tackle and captain of the Ohio university football team, is assisting Coach J. W. Wilce in training the Buckeye squad this fall.

St. Louis Americans have one ball player about whom little is written—Tobin. Yet he is one of the greatest outfielders in the American league, and is always hitting near the top.

COLLEGE PLAYER AIDS SPORT

Former Baseball Star, Jack Barry, is Loud in His Praise of Collegians on Diamond.

Jack Barry, former star shortstop of the Philadelphia Athletics and one of the Boston Red Sox, and an alumnus of Holy Cross college, is one of the great many who give the college players much credit for uplifting baseball in general. While discussing the subject recently Barry said:

"It is surely true that the college players have done more to elevate professional baseball than any other factor in the development of the game. The college player has helped to make the national sport worth while. He has helped to make the professional baseball player respected everywhere, and his influence has tended to eliminate most of the rowdiness from the game."

GIANTS MADE BEST RECORD

New Yorkers Won 26 Straight Victories in Chase for Pennant During 1916 Season.

Speaking of straight victories, the New York Giants made a record in 1916 which will stand for some time to come.

That season the New Yorkers won 26 in a row and 17 straight on the road. In the American league the Chicago club won 19 straight in 1908 when making their drive for the pennant.

"What Number Did You Call, Please?"

After giving the number to an operator, you are sometimes asked what number you were calling. Doubtless you have supposed the same operator was talking. As a matter of fact, this was a second operator trying to complete your call.

Usually this happens because the number you called has been changed or the telephone taken out, or it may be because the first operator misunderstood the number.

When conditions necessitate the referring of a call to a special operator and she says, "What number did you call, please?" your prompt and thoughtful co-operation will assist her in serving you.

MISS LILETTE

An entertaining asset with "The Big Jamboree" and Frank Hunter at the popular Gayety Theatre all next week.

THE VALLEY OF SILENT MEN AT THE RIALTO

What Bret Harte was to the Sierras James Oliver Curwood is to the Canadian Rockies. If he was not their discoverer, he is at least, their romancer. While acting as special investigator for the Canadian government, Mr. Curwood was charmed by this unspoiled section of Nature's wonderland which he has made the scene of so many of his stories—"The Valley of Silent Men." That little Eden of the North, over which three snow-clad sentinel mountains keep perpetual watch is no myth.

But with all his skill as a word-painter Mr. Curwood could only indicate the natural beauties of this Northern Paradise. Even the "still" camera and the painter's canvas can capture only isolated bits of natural beauty which seem so remote that the spectator can hardly realize their truth. But now the motion pictures, those marvelous simulacra of life and action, have followed Mr. Curwood's trail, and in filming "The Valley of Silent Men" amid the very scenes which the author described in his thrilling romance, will bring home to millions of screen devotees the natural wonders of the Canadian Rockies.

Cosmopolitan Productions on acquiring the motion-picture rights to "The Valley of Silent Men", which comes to the Rialto Theatre Saturday, Nov. 4, sent a company up into the mountains in the early spring before the snows began to melt. For twelve weeks they camped and took pictures about Banff and Lake Louise, and the camera caught that miracle of Nature—the coming of spring in the snowy wilderness. Chester Lyons, the cameraman, and Harry Wild, his assistant, frequently took "shots" of fifteen miles with the telephoto lens, and owing to the clarity of the air the visibility was wonderful.

FRANK HUNTER AT GAYETY

Popular Player Returns With a New Edition of "The Big Jamboree"

That James E. Cooper will present his "Big Jamboree" at the popular Gayety Theatre the week starting Saturday matinee will be good news to hosts of "fans" who have come to rely on him as a producer and exponent of burlesque as they best like to see it presented. From the time "Bluch" Cooper was an actor he has steadily advanced as a factor in Columbia Wheel entertainment and since he has devoted himself exclusively to producing his reputation for presenting really good shows has been continually enhanced.

Cooper's "Big Jamboree" will feature a musical entertainment in two acts and eleven scenes, written and staged by William K. Wells, with music by Hal Dyson and Melville Norris. The dancing numbers, which will be featured in great variety, have been staged by Raymond B. Perez. Nine principals and a chorus of eighteen singing and dancing girls will be involved in the "Big Jamboree."

The featured players will be Frank Hunter, character comedian; Teresa Adams, prima donna leads, and Bob Nugent, who offers character comedy in Hebrew delineations. Other principal players of importance to the progress of the "Big Jamboree" will be William P. Murphy, who plays nine different characters in a test of versatility.

Sixteen numbers and ensembles will be high spots in the two-act musical comedy wherein nearly a score of trained dancing and singing chorus girls will disport in as many changes of costume.

Sunday's matinee starts at 3:00. There will be a matinee at 2:15 daily all week. Election returns will be read from the stage at frequent intervals Tuesday night.

ORPHEUM ATTRACTIONS

FOR NEXT WEEK

Established years ago as one of the most popular minstrel stars of the American stage, Eddie Leonard comes to the Orpheum next week as the stellar attraction. As a blackface comedian he achieved his major success but last season he headed a musical comedy company.

He is also widely known as a song composer. Some of his chief successes have been "Mandy," "That's All," and "Sweetness." Some of his new songs are "Mary, Where Will You Be?" and "The Dancing Moon."

This season his vaudeville offering "The Minstrel's Delight." He has the capable assistance of Stewart and Olive.

A clever skit called "The Service Station" is to be offered as a featured act. Ernest Anderson and Marjorie Burt do a domestic comedy scene, and the undescribed "Alexandria" is to be another of the featured offerings.

Hallen and Miss Russell are players who have won distinction. He is an effective funmaker and she is a charming actress.

"The Dizzy Heights" which Anderson and Burt are to present, is a vehicle worthy of their exceptional talents.

Who Alexandria is and what Alexandria does to be entertaining will be shown only at the performance.

Dancing, talking, a grand piano, a voice, a one-stringed fiddle and a personality are the chief factors in the performance to be presented by Dave Roth. "Versatile Impressions" his act is called.

The Hanako Trio are to offer some clever feats of magic.

The El Rey Sisters are to present a series of dances on roller skates.

Once again the popular comic cartoon, Aesop's Fables, will be shown on the screen. Topics of the Day and Pathe Weekly will also be displayed.

THE TRUTHFUL LIAR

AT EMPRESS THEATRE

Who killed Potts Or Smith, or Brown, or Jones, or any of the hundreds who yearly fall victims of the secret assassin's hand

That is the eternal fascination of the mystery picture. A problem to solve: this is what holds the breathless interest, and this is what you will find in "The Truthful Liar", Wanda Hawley's new Realart picture which will begin a run of four days at the Empress Theatre next Sunday.

Few know the American public's taste, whether in reading drama or screen entertainment, better than Will Payne, noted novelist. So when he came to write his first original screen story, starring Wanda Hawley, he based his dramatic climax upon the most compelling of all situations—the mysterious killing of a man.

Miss Hawley is supported in this picture by Edward Hearn, Casson Ferguson, Charles A. Stevenson, George Siegmann, Lloyd Whitlock and E. A. Warren.

THE NORTHWESTERN BELL A HIGH CLASS MAGAZINE

The Mediator for the first time is in receipt of "The Northwestern Bell," a monthly publication published in the interests of the employees and officials of the local telephone company.

It is the best and breeziest journal of its kind we have ever had the pleasure of receiving and must be of unusual interest to those connected with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Guy Leavitt is the editor and is ably assisted by Agnes Carlson. Among the many contributors and general writers is our old friend and splendid writer, F. A. Secord from the commercial division. "The Last Page," which is the last page, is replete with wit and humor. Here is a single illustration: Long distance student answering Des Moines subscriber's request for a number: "Will you hang for a moment, please, and then call again"

The American safety razor is given the credit of having conquered the Spanish beard. On account of the heaviness of their beards, the Spanish men generally shave much less than those of other countries and the result was they presented a rather unshorn appearance. The visit to the barber was a serious matter and the Spaniard selected his barber as other men would select a dentist, the one that was least painful. But the American safety razor is said to have overcome this and the men are not only enabled to shave themselves, but to shave more frequently.
