

Campaign Comes To Close Saturday Night

CANDIDATES ALL CLAIM THEY ARE SURE OF BEING ELECTED

Some Who Have "Vote In Their Hip Pocket" Will Find Selves Victim of Over Confidence

INTEREST INCREASES AS ELECTION NEAR

Some Of The Sure Shots Are George Holmes, "Doc" Tanner, Ed. Howell, Robert Smith, Sam Greenleaf, D. A. Compton And Harry Counsman — Record Breaking Registration May Somewhat Upset The Dope—Men, Not Party To Be Voted For.

As the campaign comes to a close nearly every candidate is claiming victory. About half of them are doomed to bitter disappointment. The race for the various judicial positions and other county offices has waxed warm the past week with many elective offices in doubt. A final review of the political situation based on close observation tends to show that a certain few are all but elected and at the same time others are practically out of the running.

There is just enough doubt concerning several candidates that interest in the coming election next Tuesday will be at fever heat until the last ballot is counted. A few safe predictions on the outcome may be made at this time which seems sure of fulfillment. Among those who seem assured of election are George Holmes present municipal judge who seeks re-election. The same may be said of Arthur E. Baldwin who is again asking the suffrage of Omaha voters. Judge Patrick is also exceedingly strong. All three will have plenty of opposition on the candidacy of young George B. Collins who has made a whirlwind campaign for a place on the bench. John O. Yeiser, Jr. is also one of the nominees for municipal judge who has been out hustling for votes. He has many tried and true friends especially among the younger element.

As noted last week, the election of John M. (Doc) Tanner is a foregone conclusion or at least it appears that way at this writing. Doc is an old newspaper man and well versed in the ways of state legislation. A good bet is that LeRoy Ryberg, T. B. Dyser, Ed Howell and John Cooper will be "team mates" of Doc down at Lincoln this winter. Team mates may not be just the word as a part of those mentioned are pesky republicans while the balance are plain outlaw democrats.

Once more we say that the race for clerk of the district court is a runaway for the present incumbent, Robert Smith who very probably will poll two votes to his opponents one. It is going to be a hard fight between Jack Baldwin and Jimmie English for the job of defending the public for the coming term. Jack is now on the job and has made good. He is popular with about everybody and has given the defenseless ones all that a vigorous, conscientious attorney could do. Mr. English has also shown that he is a lawyer capable of giving the public what they are paying for.

We imagine there will be a wide discrepancy in votes cast for various candidates for the same office but we will bet our summer cottage on the South Sea Islands that Sam Greenleaf will have the largest proportional vote of any man running on the county ticket. Furthermore we will bet we win.

Voters are very liable to pass up the Metropolitan Utilities District election. This should be far from the case as the election of the right sort of men as director is all important to every citizen. In our opinion William J. Coad and Thomas J. McGovern are the two men ideally fitted for the two vacancies.

Now as to the job of county commissioner. Two are to be elected, one from the 3rd district the other from the 5th. In the third district it is a battle between A. D. (Date) Compton and Thomas Falconer. Compton made one of the best commissioners Douglas county has ever known. Falconer made about the worst city commissioner Omaha ever had. Every good citizen who has the interests of the county at heart should vote for Compton.

In the 5th district the fight is between Harry Counsman and Ralph E. Roche. No one ever heard of Roche. He is an unknown quantity. On the other hand 30,000 small home owners

MEDIATOR SUED BY PHYSICIAN

Dr. Roeder Asks 100 Thousand Dollar Damages — Nine Other Defendants

Dr. Clyde A. Roeder, well known Omaha physician, has sued the editor of The Mediator and nine other Omaha people for slander, and asking the court to award him 100 thousand dollars. The Mediator is made a party to the suit because of an article it printed several months ago which Dr. Roeder alleges was derogatory to his character and damaged his reputation as a physician.

He charges also that Dr. Condon, one of the defendants in the suit, scattered copies of the paper containing this story, broadcast. The Mediator will make its defense when the case comes to trial and not through these columns. It is sufficient to say that this paper attempts to at all times print the truth and will continue so to do. On looking through our subscription list, we find that Dr. A. P. Condon is and for a long time has been a subscriber. The record shows that he owes the paper about $2, which we assume he will pay in due time. The same list indicates that Dr. Roeder is not a regular subscriber, and secures his paper from one of the various news stands that handles it.

Our old friends Felix Dolan and Steve Maloney are also named as defendants in the suit. That ought to make this story a good one when it comes up for trial. All we can promise is that everybody will get what is coming to them from this paper at that time.

HOW TO SPLIT TICKET

It is easy to prepare a ballot to vote a split ticket, but this should be done with care to prevent the loss of your vote.

A republican, for instance, who wishes to vote for some democrat on the ballot may put his cross in the republican party circle at the top. He can then pass down the ticket and where he wishes his vote cast for a democrat, he should place a cross in the square opposite the name of that particular democrat. He may vote for as many democrats as he likes with the same precaution.

This saves marking a cross in the square opposite the name of every candidate for whom you wish to vote, but if you wish you can put a cross after the name of each candidate you wish to vote for, remembering that you must be careful to vote for only one candidate for the same office.

In voting the nonpartisan ballots for judges and board of education, be careful not to vote for more than the number specified at the head of the list of candidates.

Citizens who vote for the La Follette independent ticket should remember that this does not include candidates for offices other than president and vice president. Those who wish to vote the progressive state and congressional ticket should remember that a ballot for this party does not also include a vote for president and vice president.

GOIN' HELL BENT FOR 'LECTION

Agnes Cleghorne of Twenty-fifth Street is still operating in the same old way. She may get over it.

GET OUT AND VOTE

You are not a good citizen if you fail to go to the polls on November 4 and vote. It is better to vote wrong than not at all. Every reader of this paper should not be content to simply vote but should use every effort to see that his neighbors do likewise. Get out your car early on election day and keep it busy hauling voters to the booths and keep it up until the polls close. If you have no car hire one.

JUDGE DINEEN SHOULD BE ELECTED

Judge Frank M. Dineen, present municipal judge is in the race for district judge this fall. He should by all means be elected by the same big majority that made him judge at the last election. Judge Dineen has been fair but strict in his administration of justice in the past and may be relied upon to do the same in the more important role of district judge. Dineen got his political start as city prosecutor and was so successful that when he ran for municipal judge at the last election he headed the entire ticket. He should by all means be one of the nine men to be chose district judge at the coming election.

STATE TEACHERS TO CONVENE IN OMAHA FOR CONVENTION

Five general sessions, three group meetings and twenty-two sectional meetings are on the program of the fourth annual convention of District two, Nebraska State Teachers association which will be held in Omaha, November 6, 7 and 8, with more than 3,000 expected to attend.

The battery of speakers includes some of the best authorities in the country, men and women prominent in the educational field having been engaged to address both the general and sectional meetings.

In addition to the educational program, the teachers will be provided entertainment at the general sessions and other meetings by elementary grade orchestras, Central and Technical high schools' orchestras and glee clubs, a chorus, teachers of music of Omaha schools, and a pageant by girls of Technical high school.

Reduced railroad rates of one and one-half fare on the certificate plan from points where the regular fare is 67 cents or more, are offered to teachers coming to the convention.

EVEN WETS GO BACK ON OLD BOB LA FOLLETTE

Because he had "failed to make an unequivocal stand for the repeal or modification of the Volstead law," the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment has "refused its official endorsement" of the presidential candidacy of Senator La Follette, W. H. Stayton, executive head of the association, said in a statement last night.

In announcing that word to that effect was being sent to the membership of the association, many of whom, he said, had been "led to announce their intention to vote for La Follette on the ground of his understood 'wet' tendencies", Stayton asserted that the "fast-and-loose tactics adopted by the Wisconsin senator were designed to capture the votes of both wets and dries."

Candidates For Judge Close Campaign

The dignified campaign for district judge really came to an end the early part of the week with seventeen aspirants for the nine open places virtually ending their arguments in one of the cleanest contests ever waged for the honor of representing the district as its judicial representatives. On the surface it would appear that at least seven and perhaps eight of the present judges will be re-elected.

Among those who seem assured of retaining their present places on the ticket are Judge L. B. Day who no doubt will head the ticket, William A. Redick, Charles Leslie, James Fitzgerald, Alexander C. Troup, Charles A. Goss and Arthur C. Wakeley. It is all but an assured fact that Municipal Judge Frank M. Dineen will be one of the successful candidates. Most people believe that he will run a close second to Judge Day or at least come in third under the wire. At the same time Judge Hastings, Ralph Coad, Judge Stauffer, W. W. Slabaugh and George Shields have a chance as all of them are well and pretty favorably known.

The best prediction is that Charles E. Foster will be the worst defeated man of the seventeen. He has always been a failure but loves to feed at the public crib so does not hesitate to take a long chance. He should get the political beating of his life.

HERE'S CHANCE TO MAKE A ROTTEN BET

We were just about ready to write an extended story in connection with "Double-Crossing" Danny Butler's gubernatorial candidacy when we were reminded by our friend Claude Arezzo that it was unfair to tell the truth about dead ones. However we must go to the extent of saying that we are holding 5 thousand 4 hundred dollars of somebody's money that the "Bath House King" will not carry three counties in the State. Kum on Ku Klux Klanners and Kover the Kazuma if you think your Dan has a chance.

ITALIAN BOY KNOCKS WHAY OUT OF WOP STOOL PIGEON

Sam Marrota is an Italian who has lived in "Little Italy" for many years. After gaining the confidence of his fellow citizens he has turned stool pigeon according to many who should know. A stool pigeon might possibly be alright in his place but when he goes so far as to get a bunch of his "kid" friends into a little five cent crap game then when the pot finally gets near the dollar mark, grab the money and have the boys arrested he has gone beyond the limits of even stool pigeon decency. That is the trick that Marrota is said to have turned.

The outcome was one that had a real kick in it both relatively and literally. One of the boys told the "Dago Squealer" that it he would lay down his gun and fight like a man he would see whether the big stiff could steal the kids money or not. The result was that the alleged stool pigeon all but got his bloomin' head knocked off. Marrota had the boys arrested but the only satisfaction he got was a sound tongue lashing from the judge. The boys were discharged.

WITH A FEW EXCEPTIONS THE BATTLE WAS CLEAN-CUT ONE

Said That Treachery of Women Responsible For Dirty "Mud" Letter Against County Assessor

FIGHT IS BETWEEN COOLIDGE AND DAVIS

Davis May Carry Nebraska In Spite Of Republican Slush Fund—Val Peter Unable To Deliver Goods—McMullen To Be Next Governor—Every Voter Should Cast Ballot For Harry Fleaharty—Dirty Politics Proves Boomerang

The present campaign practically over has been fairly clean, at least in this part of the country. While it is true that both democrats and republicans and certain portions of the press have indulged some dirty mud slinging it is equally true that from a comparative standpoint the three months of campaigning has been clean.

The exposure of the tremendous republican campaign funds including the ten thousand alleged bribe of Val Peter has been the subject of severe criticism by the democrats. The republicans have had several comebacks at their ancient enemies and good hot arguments involving the honesty of the La Follette campaign. If we get the spirit of the voting public a right they are going to repudiate not the politicians against whom the political mud has been thrown but rather against those who have stooped so low as to resort to that kind of politics.

As a strictly independent newspaper the Mediator believes that it is able to sense the political trend in this part of the country and especially in Omaha. One outstanding fact seems to be that La Follette who was very strong early in the campaign is fast losing ground and will be a poor third in the popular as well as the electoral vote. Both Coolidge and Davis are honorable men, both brilliant, with Davis the brighter of the two. Either of the two major party candidates are well qualified to hold the highest elective office in the world. The indications are that Coolidge will be elected but Davis will run strong in the middle west and may squeeze through with the necessary amount of votes to make him the next president.

It is a dead cinch that Senator Norris will be re-elected by a great majority in spite of the fact that both democrats and regular republicans are moving heaven, hell and earth to bring about his defeat. The people out in the state are for him first, last and all the time. He looks like a twenty to one shot. For Governor, any good gambler would lay his money down on Adam McMullen. He is known and well liked throughout the state and very, very strong in Omaha. Norton is not known and is in no way fitted to be governor. Things would have been different had Charley Bryan been the final nominee.

For Secretary of State just about every one in the state should and probably will vote for C. W. Pool a democrat who has more than made good as a public servant. For Auditor, Treasurer, Land and Railway Commissioner the republicans will probably win out following the lead of McMullen. It is vastly different when it comes to the office of Attorney General. In this case the democratic nominee should have a walkaway. Harry Fleaharty is the democratic nominee. He is the man for the place. Our reasons are given in another article in this issue.

For Congressman in this the Second district, William Jamieson is the man. He is young, alert and a practical attorney who will if elected serve his constituents not only well but in the method one expects from a friend and neighbor. His opponent is an old man and was never heard of after going to Washington for his first term. He was elected because a majority of people of this district wanted to see the judge round out a career as a congressman. The compliment has been paid and now a younger and better qualified man should take his place.

Out in the state it looks like Moorehead, Edgar Howard, McLaughlin and W. E. Andrews will be the men to go to the Capitol.

Those who take an interest in politics in other states have had their hands and their minds full in trying

NOVEMBER SHOULD BE PROLIFIC IN BOXING AND OTHER FALL SPORTING EVENTS

Possible That Mickey Walker Will Meet Schlaifer Here Next Month. Cornhuskers And Creighton Have Tough Battles Saturday When They Meet Missouri And Marquette—Baseball Does Not Appear To Great Britain.

BOXING

It has been several moons since fight followers have had the opportunity of witnessing a live up-to-date boxing card. This is the result largely of "Hard Luck" George Yeager having to call off the last card that was scheduled. Perhaps the long interval has been a good thing for the game in general. Promoters have been unable or unwilling, the former presumably, of matching two men as headliners that are popular enough to draw a crowd sufficient to make the venture attractive from a financial standpoint.

It may be that the proposed fight next Friday night will prove a good attraction.

With the election over next Tuesday and the public forgetting the result before the end of the week, with the weather cool enough for comfort it would appear that any competent promoter could within a fortnight arrange a fight that would satisfy boxing fans and be a good financial adventure. At the same time no promoter can expect to get anywhere in the future by engaging a bunch of has beens or worn out hams. The public has been fooled long enough and will stand for no more mediocre or framed fights. The club that brings a champion or near champion here and picks for him a worthy opponent will pick the cow shed to the ceiling and get away with a nice piece of change. The promoter that thinks he can once more put "blinders" on the public is going to be out of luck. Perhaps some one will bring the popular Dave Shade here. A match with Morris and the noted Californian would be a real drawing card.

(insert) Just now the American Legion is after a match for Schlaifer and the welter champion Mickey Walker. It is thought probable the two can be brought together in an Omaha ring the latter part of November.

FOOTBALL

Football followers who for years could see no team except the Cornhuskers got a big and very unpleasant surprise the early part of the season as a result of the Oklahoma and Illinois games. While the Nebraska showing was disheartening during the early season stages they have shown signs of regaining their old form. Last week they tumbled over the strong Jawhaskers down on their own dunghill, the victory while not a notable one seemed to encourage Dawson's cornfeds. Saturday the Nebraskaans tackle the Missouri Tigers an aggregation they have always beaten rather easily but they have a tough battle on their hands now. The show-me boys are undoubtedly stronger than they have been in twenty years and it would not surprise any one to see them come through victor over the Cornhuskers this year.

While Nebraska is fighting it out with Missouri, Creighton will be up in the Badger state doing battle with the strong Marquette eleven. The Blue will fight as they never fought before as it is their great ambition to go through the season undefeated and have a fine chance to do so if they can only stop the Wisconsinites. There will no doubt be a tremendous outpouring at the Marquette-Creighton game as it is homecoming day for Creighton's competitors.

BASEBALL

The national pastime is never going to be popular in Europe. That is very evident from the fact that the Giants and White Sox played a Sunday game in Dublin before less than a score of people. Even in London the games were very poorly supported. The Englishman's idea of sports is confined to cricket and ping pong.

LITERARY DIGEST POLL APPARENTLY DOES NOT SHOW THE WAY WIND BLOWS

Ballots Cast Would Indicate "Doubtful Nebraska" In Coolidge Column—Other Glaring Errors Discernable — Several Other Mid-West States Placed In G. O. P. Column—German Vote Doubtful—Davis Gaining Ground In East.

The final poll of the Literary Digest has been tabulated and given to the public Thursday of this week. If either means everything or nothing according to the partisan views one takes of it. Those closely following the figures should bear in mind that the last votes tabulated must of necessity have been received a week or ten days ago. They should also remember that hundreds of thousands of independent voters change their vote during the last two weeks of a campaign.

To one who analyzes straw votes from a strictly non-partisan standpoint it appears the Digests figures are far from accurate as it concerns the final outcome. Take the figures presented from Nebraska as an example. It seems hardly possible that even the most rabid republican would claim the vote as given out is representative of the opinion of the voting public. According to the figures given, Coolidge received 20,862 while La Follette's vote totaled but 8,883. Davis getting 8,892. These figures would indicate that the president will receive twice as many votes as either of the other two candidates. Every well informed man in the state knows that the three candidates are coming down the stretch in Nebraska neck and neck with the chances favoring La Follette or Davis if anything. At best if Coolidge gets the Cornhuskers electorate it will be by the skin of his teeth. Nebraska must be added to the list of doubtful states.

Other states the Digest poll shows are safely republican are Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Idaho and Missouri. If these extremely doubtful states were to go against Coolidge and it is very probably that will be the case then according to the Digests figures Coolidge's electoral vote would dwindle from 827 to 283 just a bare seventeen more than he would need to be elected. This does not take into account a single eastern state, any one of which might go Democratic and either insure the election of Davis or throw the election into the house. It does not take a great stretch of the imagination to figure it out that Davis might carry either Ohio, New York or even New Jersey. Neither does one have to take a shot in the arm to lure up visions of a La Follette victory in Iowa and possibly in rock ribbed republican Kansas though it is hardly probable that the Wisconsin senator will be able to pull through in these overwhelmingly G. O. P. strongholds.

One of the most ridiculous claims made is that for the state of New York. Should the actual vote follow the straw vote then Coolidge would get nearly two to one votes over the combined opposition. The vote even shows that La Follette will poll nearly forty per cent more votes than Davis. New York City with nearly half of the states' votes is normally strongly democratic and is not expected to change this year as easterners are not afraid of Davis. The president may win the Empire state but by no such landslide as indicated.

The one outstanding condition at the coming election is one that no politician can even guess or a straw vote no matter how comprehensive can possible cover. That concerns the German vote. Four years ago practically every German or American of German descent voted for Harding a protest against Wilson entering the war on the side of the allies. Since that time hundreds of thousands of former Germans of democratic fifth have returned to the fold while other thousands, perhaps millions will vote for La Follette who represented German opinion in the

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA'S BIRTHDAY

Yesterday was the birthday of Czecho-Slovakia. The overthrow of Austria on Oct. 28, 1918, was the beginning of the Czecho-Slovakian independence, and in a half a dozen years this inland republic, laboring under many handicaps, has advanced to a position of security excelled by no other European state. By radical financial reform, without any succor from the nations, Czecho-Slovakia has made its currency as stable as any in Europe. A genuinely democratic constitution has been elaborated, and full citizenship rights are guaranteed to all racial minorities. There have been differences between the Cech and Slovak elements of the population, but have not been serious enough to interfere with the steady progress of the state.

President Mararyk and Premier Benes take rank among the world's foremost statesmen, and have achieved results so notable that Czecho-Slovakia today holds the respect of all the rest of the world. They have not devoted themselves narrowly to Democratic affairs, but have taken a leading and helpful part in international adjustments. The little Entente, formed under Czecho-Slovak influence, is a strong force for European peace. Czecho-Slovakia's representation in the council of the League of Nations is an indication of the high regard in which the nation is held.

Surely few nations ancient or modern can show a more resplendent record of progress in six years. It stands today incomparably the best post-war record of any of the European nations.

EARLY PRESIDENTS UPHOLD CONSTITUTION

Andrew Johnson said—

The Union and the constitution are inseparable. As long as one is obeyed by all parties the other will be preserved; and if one is destroyed both must perish together. The destruction of the constitution will be followed by other and still greater calamities. It was ordained not only from a more perfect union between the states, but to 'establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and insure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.' Nothing but implicit obedience to its requirements in all parts of the country will accomplish these great ends. Without that obedience we can look forward only to continual outrages upon individual rights, incessant breaches of the public peace, national weakness, financial dishonor, the total loss of our prosperity, the general corruption of morals and the final extinction of popular freedom.

U. S. Grant at a later period had this to say:

The framers of the constitution were wise in their generation, and wanted to do the very best possible to secure their own liberty and independence and that also of their descendants to the latest days.

During his present term as county assessor he has reduced taxes full twenty per cent on every small home in Omaha and did it against the protest of some mighty rich and influential people. One Daily paper has been pleased to play politics with Counsman by printing an old letter that when thoroughly read does not mean a thing. However that will have but little if any effect as the people want Counsman as County Commissioner and are going to elect him.

PROPOSED GOOD ROADS PROGRAM GIVEN BOOST BY GREATER OMAHA COMMITTEE
The Nebraska Good Roads Association has formulated a definite program of road improvement, backed by the Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Omaha Committee which will mean that this great state will eventually take its rightful place designed to make of this country a second France so far as good roads are concerned.
A six year road building program has been mapped out which if carried through will put Nebraska on an equal footing with many eastern states as concerns its highways. The road building program calls for an expenditure of 48 million 900 thousand dollars during the next six years. It is to be divided as follows:
Hard surfacing, 700 miles, at $2,800 per mile $19,600,000
Bridges and Culverts $1,500,000
Maintenance of state highway construction for six years at $1,750,000 per year 10,500,000
Grading 2,100 miles at $1,500 per mile 3,150,000
Graveling and claying 3,000 miles at $3,500 per mile 10,500,000
Total $48,900,000
The sources of revenue of this expenditure, George explained, would be as follows:
Legislative appropriation, $2,000,000 yearly for six years $12,000,000
Federal aid 12,000,000
Two-cent gasoline tax, $2,400,000 annually 14,400,000
Fifty per cent, auto license fees 10,500,000
Total revenue $48,900,000

GETTING READY FOR FORM CENSUS
Primary questionnaires for a farm census of the country have been sent to Nebraska farmers by the federal census bureau preparatory to the actual work of taking the census to be begun December 1st.
This census was authorized by congress through a bill passed in 1922 appropriating the funds necessary for it. The need for such a census each five years was brought before congress by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States after he matter had been brought to its attention through a resolution passed by the agriculture committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce in 1921.
The Pittsburgh Pirates thought enough of George Grantham to make him over from the Cubs in a deal which gives Chicago hardly an even break according to those who seem to know though the Cub management naturally thinks he is getting the long end of the bargain.

VOTE YES ON THE PROPOSED RIVER PARKWAY BONDS
Every voter that has the least pride in Omaha and a genuine desire to see the Nebraska metropolis take its rightful place in the sisterhood of metropolitan cities will vote for the River Parkway bonds next Tuesday. The proposal has been endorsed by most of our leading citizens and should be carried by a great majority.
The general sentiment of the community has been well summed up by Doctor Gifford who in an interview with a local daily said that this is Omaha's biggest opportunity to get a wonderful scenic parkway, one that possesses more beauty than any other city in the middle west, is able to boast of. He added that the expense is so small that it will mean nothing to the average taxpayer, the average individual cost being but twenty-four cents a year. Unless the proposed bonds are voted for at the coming election it is probable that the land will be taken over for other uses and the project spoiled for all time to come. Vote yes on the River Parkway bonds.

"THE FAST SET"

William de Mille Uses New Method In Making Latest Film

Noted Paramount Producer Emphasizes Story And Acting In Celluloid Version Of Famous Stage Success.

William DeMille is calling an "about face" to motion picture producers in his newest Paramount production, "The Fast Set," by proving that the finest effects on the screen can be created by eliminating the non-essentials.

The tendency in motion picture production has been toward over-elaboration in settings and lighting, with the result that the main purpose of the production—the dramatic story told in fine acting—has often been defeated.

In his production of "The Fast Set," Mr. de Mille in collaboration with Wilfred Buckland, his supervising artist, and L. Guy Wilky, his chief cameraman, has evolved new methods of staging, lighting and photographing, which, in their ensemble, will set new standards in this branch of motion picture making.

"We are working out a method upon which we have been spending many months of labor," said Mr. Buckland. "We have eliminated the non-essentials in the picture and accentuated the dramatic story."

"The best way to describe our method is to compare it to a famous painting in its relationship to the ordinary photograph. In the painting the artists presents the essentials of his subject and places them upon canvas."

"Take a Rembrandt picture and study it closely—the figures stand out strongly from the background because the artist has accentuated his important theme and subdued the background in such a way that, while the spectator is conscious of its existence, he does not really see it.

"The ordinary photograph, on the other hand, brings all the detail to the very edge of the frame, filling the entire space but not actually stressing the most interesting parts."

"In 'The Fast Set' we have had some measure of success in introducing this newer method. We have spent many months in experimentation and will show the results in the new production. I believe that in this picture we are making a big step forward and approaching closer to the ideal of the best cinematographers—the creation of paintings in motion."

"The Fast Set," which was written by Clara Beranger from Frederick Lonsdale's stage play, "Spring Cleaning," has a typical William de Mille cast—Betty Compson, Adolphe Menjou, Elliott Dexter and ZaSu Pitts being the featured players.

The picture will be the feature at the Strand Theatre for seven days beginning next Sunday.

NO, THIS ISN'T REBEKKA AT THE WELL

It's pretty Althea Barnes. She doesn't do this stunt in "Go To It" (at the Gayety twice daily all next week) but she does sing. Oh boy, how she can warble—putsa herd of canaries to shame. Extra Midnite show at 11:30 Tuesday night. Election returns, by special wire, read from the stage frequently.

"GO TO IT"

That's Plain Enough For Anyone To Understand—You Can Go To It At The Gayety.

Scenes of illustrative and sartorial splendor, pretty girls in great flocks of animated attractiveness, comedians that readily bring the merry laugh and excite merriment at will, singers, dancers, acrobats and all-round entertainers of great profusion will form attractive features of William S. Campbell's new Columbia Burlesque, "Go To It," all next week at the popular Gayety theatre when a special drive for the patronage of ladies will center in the daily matinees. "Go To It" promises light and agreeable entertainment of the kind that carries something to delight all beholders.

The cast will be particularly effective in that Gene Shuler and Jim Carlton will be the featured comedians working tandem through numerous comical situations and burlesque "bits" with Althea Barnes singled out for distinction among the large assemblage of pretty girls. Shuler will be remembered by the fans as the Dutch character comedian, in recent seasons with "Wine, Woman and Song" and "The Bostonians". His associate, Jim Carleton, affects the "booby" style for provoking laughter and his gained Class A rating in his line of work.

Miss Barnes, the prima donna, was last season with "Runnin' Wild" on the Columbia "Wheel"; Helen DuRoss, an efficient soubrette, will be recalled for her previous appearances with "Bubble Bubble" while two other principal girls—Bobby Blair and Louise Gardner—come to burlesque with an excellent vaudeville reputation. Zvonne Zetta, premier dancer, will have the backing of the chorus in some of her illustrations of toe-dancing.

Laura and Billy Dreyer introduce their "Twentieth Century Dance Revue" speedy routine of modern dances done in a new way.

"Via Radio" is the title of the singing and comedy act to be presented by Fein and Tennyson, vocalists of much ability.

For additional fun Madame Everest presents her "Simian Circus" a troupe of trained monkeys that perform all the feats one sees in the average vaudeville show.

Davis and Pelle in their sensational gymnastic offering are rated among the best of their kind in vaudeville.

Arthur Hays will again introduce something new in the way of organ solos.

The Eight Broadway Entertainers, a novel syncopated organization and Hal Johnson & Co. in the musical farce "Mr. Chaperone" headlines the bill starting next Saturday.

Curse of Ignorance. Ignorance follows the man who is satisfied with what he knows, and nothing ever cured the health and lives of human beings more severely than ignorance.

Pocahontas. The real name of Pocahontas was Matoaka. Pocahontas is a verbal adjective, meaning he or she is playful. This nickname was used by Pocahontas' father, Powhatan, in speaking with the Virginia colonists.

Tom Brown, musical entertainer of international fame, headlines the new 6 act vaudeville bill at the World theatre this week.

Tom brings here his noted saxophone sextette, the Brown Brothers. Tom in blackface and the brothers in clown make up have presented their saxophone numbers all over the world.

Featured with numerous Broadway attractions, notably the Fred Stone shows, the Brown organization has been the most widely imitated attraction of its kind in theatricals.

Not alone the ensemble playing of the sextette but the clowning of Tom Brown makes the act that is sure to prove the most notable feature the World has offered this fall.

In Myers and Hanneford, "Arkansas Valentines" the World presents an extra added attraction of unusual comedy value. These two funmakers have been a feature of the "Greenwich Village Follies".

COPS BOOST PAY AS MOVIE ACTOR

Get Jobs As "Extras" And "Clean Up" By Working On Holidays in Films.

When the movies first began to invade Hollywood and finally made the little Los Angeles suburb the motion picture capital of the world it was not thought that the regular inhabitants of the town—those engaged in business there before the arrival of the film army—would ever be called upon to help the movie-makers. But time has changed the art of moving making and changed also many of the natives of Hollywood.

Many a Los Angeles policeman has been employed on his holidays to appear in pictures. Fashionable dress-makers have found business in the studios; school teachers have been called into consultation during the filming of a classroom scene, and there is ever record of a Hollywood delicatessen keeper who acted as adviser to a movie producer who was constructing a studio set to represent the interior of a delicatessen shop! And now recently a minister was called upon to help.

It was during the filming of Edwin Carewe's "Madonna of the Streets," which will be the First National picture at the Rialto Theatre on Saturday, November 1, for one week. It was necessary to build the interior of large mission house holding a thousand people, and in order that the details be perfectly correct Mr. Carewe induced a local clergyman supervise the building of the set. It is from the platform of this structure that Milton Sills, who is featured in the picture with Nazimova, delivers a stirring talk that leads to his expansion.

"Madonna of the Streets" is an adaptation of the novel of London life entitled "The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell. In addition to Nazimova and Mr. Sills, it is enacted by a cast including Claude Gillingwater, Courtney Foote, Harold Goodwin and Vivien Oakland.

That Well-Known Motto. The motto, "E Pluribus Unum," was taken from the title page of the Gentlemen's Magazine, at the time of the Revolution, having a very large circulation in the colonies.

Don't Give Them Nitrogen. It has been found that the house-fly, whose term of life is commonly believed to be about six weeks, can live twice as long if its food contains nitrogen.

"Dixie Darling" a musical romance of the sunny South is the bill being offered at the Empress this week.

The show gets its title from a thoroughbred entered in the Kentucky Derby. Around the race horse is built a love romance that is chuck full of riotous comedy.

The laugh portion of the musical play is in the capable hands of Rudy Winter, Whitey Holtman, and Joe Marion. Rudy and Whitey appear as colored folks of quality and Marion as the jockey.

Along with the heart interest and laughter there are moments of pathos as well and the production promises to prove one of the most popular of the long series of shows presented here by the Empress Players.

Among the numerous song numbers introduced are included "Southern Melodies", "I'm Going Back To Carolina", "Sunny Song Smiles", a novel ensemble number, "Derby Day in Dixie" and a number of others.

"Tangled Sweeties" a farcical play with music is the attraction announced for the week starting next Saturday.
